Senior Book

Class of '18

John Marshall High School
Richmond
1918

RHC
REF
373.755
JMHS
1918

John Marshall High School Building

FOREWORD

The Seniors of John Marshall
Had hoped for four long years
To have the finest Annual—
But lo! the war appears.

We see our brothers marching forth
To battle with the Hun;
And we at home are told to save,
If this war's to be won.

So, to show our patriotism
In a way that's safe and sound,
With heartfelt pride we now present
Our Class Book, paper bound.

Dedication

With gratitude for her whole-hearted, untiring efforts in our behalf,
with sincere appreciation of her personal worth,
and with an abiding and deep affection for her, we lovingly dedicate this Senior Book to

Miss Sadie Engelberg.

Miss Sadie Engelberg

Principal James C. Harwood

A Tribute to
John Marshall's Soldier Sons

IT has been John Marshall's birthright to enjoy the blessing of an alumni of the finest possible quality. In whatever field of endeavor, whether in the business or professional world, her sons have acquitted themselves with credit and have come to hold positions of trust in varied capacities. Alma Mater has taught and trained her children in the standards of right and justice, and has ever looked with glowing pride and affection upon the achievements of her alumni. War, with its trials and its new duties, descended upon the land; the call to the colors was sounded; it did not pass unheeded.

Now John Marshall has greater reason for pride in her sons, for above the portals of the school waves a service flag, bearing some two hundred and eighty-five stars. We, the Class of 1918, who are about to leave the scene of four joyous years, feel that it would be amiss if we did not, in some way, show our pride in, and appreciation of, the splendid conduct of the men whom these stars represent. Accordingly, through the pages of our Class Book, we pay tribute to those gallant sons of John Marshall who, for the sake of the glorious cause they espouse, stand ready to follow the Stars and Stripes wherever it shall lead, even though it means the supreme sacrifice.

Though separated by the broad expanse of ocean, we are assured that the spirit of John Marshall will be with them to sustain them in the trials that must surely come; that the thought of John Marshall will inspire them with courage as they set about the grim and deadly task of waging war; and that every heart is, and will always be with them—every hope, every prayer for them.

To them the Class of 1918 looks with confidence to show the world, on the battle-scarred fields of France, the calibre and fibre of the men Virginia and John Marshall breed. We are expecting, nay, we are sure, that they, by their deeds in "making the world safe for democracy," will crown the fair brow of Alma Mater with the laurel wreath of fame.

S. B., Jr.

Rosewell Aaron
Edwin F. Adams
Ernest Allen
Granger Ancarrow
Newton Ancarrow
Robert Ancarrow
Brook Anderson
William Arnheim
Stover Ashbrook
Temple Atkinson

Joseph Baker
Kenneth Baker
Robert Baldwin
Irvin Barksdale
John Bauer
George R. Beeson
Adrian Bendheim
John Bennett
James Black
Drewry Blair
Hugo Blankenship
Bernard Blanton
Stanley Blanton
Lewis Bloomberg
Raymond Bolton
Aubrey Bowles
Charles Bradbury
Peyton Bradshaw
Rolph Brame

Abe Breitstein
Linwood Brooking
Myron Browning
Payson Bruce
Clarence Brumble
Garland Burnet
George T. Bryson
Harold Calisch
Carl B. Campbell
Wilbur Cardoza
French Cason
Rudolph Caven
Richard Chaffin
Bernard Christian
Junius Christian
Robert Christian
Wesley Christian
Wirt Christian
Mercer Clark
Otis Clark
John Cobb
*Jacob Cohen
William Cole
Beauclerc Coleman
Haskins Coleman
Anderson Cosby
Samuel Cottrell
Wellington Cottrell
Louis Cracke
Irvin Craig

Hugh K. Dabney
William Dabney
John Darlington
Creed Davis
Louis Davis
Irvin Dawes
Allen Day
Eugene Dennis
Eugene Des Protes
Junior Dettlebach
Harvie Devine
Ollie Devine
Alexander Downan
Vivian Douglas Marlborough Downes
John B. Dudley
John Dugan
William A. Eastman
Leo Eiseman
Richard Elam
Wyatt Ellett
Wellford Ellison
Beaufort N. Eubank
George Eubank
Gerald Ezekiel
Fred Faber
George R. Fairlamb, Jr.
William Felthouse
John Shaw Field
J. Blair Fitts

F. Moylan Fitts
R. Carroll Francis
Fred H. Franck
C. P. Fuller
Walter S. Galeski
Horace Gans
Henry E. Garrett
Robert Gary
Stuart Gates
Robert Gayle
Henry George
Chas. E. Gerlach
Thomas Gibbon
Dewey Gilbert
Howard Gilman
Sam Goodblear
Vernon Goode
Virgil Goode
Philip Goodwin
Robert Goodwin
Lewis Gordon
Freeman Gosden
Percy Gray
Walter Gray
Irving Green
Wilson Gregory
Roy Grubs
Raymond Hall
Percy Hamlin
Coleman Harris

*Killed in service.

Will Harris
Garland Harwood
Emmett Hartley
Guy Hazelgrove
Brunley Heinrich
Horace Hellstern
J. Ludwell Hill, Jr.
Roberdeau Holderby
Lewis Hoover
John House
Aubrey Hughes
Otway Hughes
Leroy Hutzler
Elmer Jackson
Vernon Jennings
Charlie Johnson
William Johnson
Taylor Jolliff
Frank Kimbrough
Aubrey LaPlace
Taylor Laton
Jesse Lawrence
Simon Lawrence
Bernard Lewis
Lee Liggan
Charles Lohman
S. W. Long
Alfred Lorraine
Rush Loving
B. D. Lowry
Charles Luck
Joseph Lyle
Cuthbert Lee
Roy Mann
Keeve Marks
Bernard Martin
J. H. Mason
Iva T. Massey
Ben Mathews
Linwood Mathews
D. Graham Mathews
Thomas Mathews
William J. Mays
Thomas McGraw

James McGraw
Patrick McGuire
Fergus McRee
Griffith McRee
Johnson McRee
Otis Mercer
Walter Mercer
Warren Mercer
Samuel Michael William Milam
Robt. Miles, Jr.
Edward Minor
Wesley H. Morris
Robert Morton
Joseph Mosby
Vincent Moseley
Clifford Moseley
Robert Moulton
George Munce
Harbert Myers
Mills Neale
James Netherwood
Richard Newell
Morton Northern Thomas Newell
H. Nolde
Wendell Oliver
Willard Oliver
Harry Palmer
Wm. J. Parrish
Lawrence Peers
Hunter Pendleton
Lawrence Pierce
Ashley Peasley
Thwest Pleasants
Tyler Pleasants
Ernest Pollard
Empie Potts
Leonard Pritchard
Albert Pulliam
Nelson Rawson
Louis Reams
Raymond Rector
Meyer Reinhardt

Randolph Richardson
William Rindsberg
Bertram L. Robins
Lake Robinson
Oswald Robinson
Clarke Roper
Jake Rosenberg
Dana Rucker
Stuart Y. Sale
Carter Ruskell
Charles Sands
David Satterfield, Jr.
Bailey Saunders
Carlton Saunders
Braxton Selden
Joseph Shelton
Frank Silvey
Clayton Sinton
John Simpson
William Sinton
Cary Skinner
Frank Smith
Westbrook Smith
Julian Staples
Henry Stern
Robert Stone
Lew Stringer
Milton Sutherland
Melton Sullivan
Allen Sutton
Charles Tabb
Carter Taylor
Clifton Taylor
George Taylor
Hugh Taylor
Pembroke Taylor
Robert Thomasson
Curtis Thompson
John Thurston
Allan Trevett
Ernest Trevett
Frederick Tucker
James Tucker
Lee Turner

Boyd Tyler
Maurice Tyler
Pleasants Tyler
Cyrus Tyree
John Tyree
Blanton Umlauf
Gray Valentine
Wilmer VanDenburgh
Howell Vaughan
Edward Vaughan-Lloyd
Lester Wallerstein
Morton Wallerstein
Ralph Wallersteein
Lewis Watkins
Malvin Watkins
Peyton Washburn
Benjamin Weisiger
Parker Weisiger
Sam Weinstein
Raymond Wharton
Carter White
Peter White
Robert Whittett
Irvin Wilkerson
Beverly Wilkes
Alex. Wilkinson
Douglas Wilkinson
Robert Williams
Thomas Williams
Harris Willingham
Charles Willis
Wilson Wilmer
R. S. Wingfield
Dave Wolfe
Kenneth Wood
Wills Woodward
Holt Woolfolk
Chas. Word
William Word
Burton Wright
Herbert Wyatt
Jesse G. Yarbrough

Editorial Staff

Sam Bendheim, Jr. ..... Editor-in-Chief

Parker Lambeth
Thelma Hill
Hester Bruce
Carl Kappes
..... Associate Editors

Thelma Hill ..... Historian

Juliet Woodson ..... Class Prophet for February

Elizabeth Wall ..... Class Prophet for June

Thelma Brumfield ..... Class Poet

George Parrish ..... Business Manager

Tyler Haynes
Stacy Lloyd
A. B. Rudd
..... Assistant Business Managers

Miss Ray Van Vort ..... Faculty Adviser

Class History

FOUR years! Is it possible that four long years have rolled by since we, as terrified "Freshies," entered the dreaded portals of John Marshall? As we look back over these years, 'tis hard to believe that so much has happened in so short a time. In the memorable year of 1914, we made our first appearance at High School. Ah! will we ever forget the terrors of the first weeks? Will time ever blot out the nerve-racking experiences, from both teachers and pupils, which we were compelled to undergo? Our fates decreed, however, that such a wretched experience was not to be our lot, and sent us a "guardian Angel" in the form of Miss Engleberg. She took us under her protection, soothed our harassed souls, and smoothed our troubled brows. Under her leadership, we were organized into a class with officers and representatives; and, greatest joy of all! we ordered class pins. And soon the "Rats" dared to assume a more confident air behind their black and gold shields. By the way, ours was the first class to be organized before the Senior year, and the Sophs. and Juniors soon followed our example.

A bit older and a bit wiser, perhaps, we entered our Sophomore year, and during this semester, we entirely lost our "ratty" exterior and assumed the role of real high school students. But what else could be expected when one takes into consideration our great triumph of October, 1915? This was the date of the Field Day, at which time, the black and gold waved on high. Again did Juniors and Seniors bow to us!

Proudly we sallied forth into our Junior year, but alas! how many of our comrades had fallen! But we dared not turn back. We must forge ahead toward our goal, ever drawing nearer, nearer to us through the enveloping mists of the future. Sad to relate, many of our merry associates were doomed never to reach their destination, some falling by the wayside, others seeking safety in ignominious retreat.

This small but plucky remnant of the original number determinedly stepped over the threshold of the Senior year. Although forever faced by the phantom, Exam., sitting silently, menacingly upon the horizon of our vision, we combined a small (?) amount of fun with much (?) work, keeping in mind the familiar old adage, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." Woe be unto us! All joy faded from our existence, all mirth from our smile, as the ogre Exam., with rapid strides, approached the miserable, ever-studious (?) Seniors. Her hollow warning, aided continually by her allies, the teachers, sounded as a death-knell in our ears. Marshalling our valiant forces, we prepared to completely rout Exam. and her ally Flunk. After a week of siege, it was ended. We had won from our enemies, but not without loss to our own forces. But are we to go unrewarded for our perseverance and hardships? Not so. Each and every successful combatant is to be duly decorated with a bit of sheepskin, commonly known as diploma.

As every graduate leaves John Marshall, he involuntarily takes a retrospective glance over the past four years, and determines to keep always these dear memories cherished in a tiny corner of his heart, and to live up to his class motto,

"Esse quam videri."

THELMA HILL.

To John Marshall

Here I hold within my hand
A bursting pod of ripe milkweed;
The tough, strong coverlet is split
By many growing little seed.

Soon will each little seed fare forth,
Its sails of gauzy down unfurled,
To make a new home for itself,
And seek its fortune in the world.

The parent plant, with thoughtful care,
Did each small voyager equip
With stored-up food and aircraft strong
To make the long and fateful trip.

Even as the milkweed pod has kept
The weakling seed in home secure,
John Marshall, you have nurtured us,
Taught us to strive and to endure.

You furnished us with knowledge true,
High courage to us did impart;
And we shall ever have for you
A grateful and a loyal heart.

Then may we, as the milkweed seed,
Go out, and on life's journey long,
Spread your dear name and glory far,
And keep them ever free from wrong.

SENIORS

SAM BENDHEIM, JR.

Sam has completed four most successful years at John Marshall, and, besides bringing honor upon himself, has reflected credit upon the school. To his efforts are due the great success of the Class Book. Although taking an active part in school life, Sam has by no means neglected his studies, as his marks show. But above all, he is a good fellow. In him may be found the happy medium where work and play meet on common ground. Here's wishing him the "best o' luck" in his further studies.

Editor-inChief Senior Class Book; Secretary Radio Club; Boys' Literary Society; Associate Editor Record '16-'17, '17-'18; Tennis Club; Consul Latin Society; Sergeant Cadet Corps; Athletic Association.

GEORGE JAMES PARRISH

There is an old saying that beauty and brains are never found together. George disproves this statement, for the teachers all say he's the smartest thing going, and if he's not handsome, why do the ladies love him so? They say he's cute, but we say he's "all there." A shark at debating, oratory, love letters, anything, sir, served immediately.

Business Manager Class Book; President Glee Club; Vice-President Athletic Association; Spanish Society; Business Manager Record; Sergeant Cadet Corps.

THELMA HILL

Now T's for true-hearted—she's cunning and kind;
While H is for humor—a type hard to find.
There's E for eagerness—a whole lot of "pep,"
With L for leadership—she's a "booster" you bet.
Then M for mischief—this her black eye reveals,
And A for attractiveness—the kind that appeals.

Associate Editor and Historian Class Book; Pep Club; Secretary and Treasurer Girls' Literary Society; Secretary Senior French Society; Athletic Association; Record Staff; Secretary Junior Spanish Society; Latin Society.

HESTER BRUCE

Hester is known at John Marshall by her quiet, self-possessed manner, humorous sayings, and her excellent standing as a student. That her brightest dreams may come true and her dearest hopes, too, is the wish of her many friends.

Exchange Editor Record; Associate Editor Class Book; Latin Society; Girls' Literary Society; Spanish Society; Athletic Association.

W. CARL KAPPES

We expect, some day, to read of the achievements of the great chemist, Carl Kappes. He does well in all studies, but chemistry is the study for "Sweet Caps." Though this was his first year on the team, Carl made an enviable record on the gridiron. His manliness and straightforwardness, whether on the athletic field or in the class room, have won for him a host of friends among teachers and pupils.

Athletic Association; Associate Editor Class Book; Football Team, '17-'18.

JULIET WOODSON

For four years, Juliet has been studying her way through John Marshall. All the teachers and pupils know that they can rely on her to lead in studiousne-s and earnestness. By her quiet manner and demure smile, she has won a place in many hearts, and it is with regret that we give her up to Westhampton. Here's to you, Juliet! May you have the best of luck, and keep your shining record ever bright.

Pep Club; Latin Society; French Society Reporter; Girls' Literary Society; Athletic Association; Class Prophet.

ELIZABETH WALL

Her big blue eyes and chestnut hair,
Her ruby lips and skin so fair,
And her darling baby stare,
Place her in a class beyond compare.

Reporter Class '18; Editorial Staff of Record; Pep Club; Girls' Literary Society; Class Prophet; Athletic Association; French Society.

THELMA BRUMFIELD

She has been with us only a year,
  And yet she has won us quite,
With her winning smile and gentle ways
  And a voice that's our delight.
She came to us from Lynchburg town;
  You know we're glad she came,
And proud to state that Class one-eight
  Includes Thelma Brumfield's name.

Class Poet, Spanish Society; Girls' Literary Society.

Walker D. Stuart

WILLIAM TYLER HAYNES

A cheerful smile on a pleasant face,
That's Tyler!
(Say, how shall I fill the rest of this space
'Bout Tyler?)
Wherever there are many girls around
You can always bet he'll be found,
And if you hear a laughing sound,
That's Tyler.

Assistant Business Manager Class Book; Treasurer Boys' Literary Society '17-'18; Treasurer Glee Club; Athletic Association; Second Lieutenant and Quartermaster Cadet Corps.

AUGUSTUS B. RUDD

None but Marshallites can full appreciate the significance of the first two letters of the alphabet. Unfeeling strangers might call him "petite," but not thus does Augustus seem to us. Like unto the reign of the great Augustus has been his reign at John Marshall. The boys say "Rudd's a good fellow," and everybody agrees—girls, faculty, and all.

Assistant Business Manager Class Book; Consul Latin Society; President Boys' Literary Society; Debating Team.

STACY LLOYD

Stacy blew in one windy day from the vast (?) Middle-West metropolis of Belfontaine, Ohio. Although he has not been with us for quite two years, this accomplished and versatile youth has succeeded remarkably well in making friends at John Marshall. As an opera singer, actor, and all 'round "ladies' man" "Stake" has demonstrated unusual ability. If you would know more about this twentieth century marvel, the girls will gladly enlighten you.

Assistant Business Manager Class Book; Assistant Business Manager Record; President Spanish Club; Critic Literary Society; Secretary Spanish Society; Athletic Association.

WALKER DABNEY STUART, JR.

"Tuggy," as he is known at J. M., has made an able President of the Senior Class. He has shone in the lime-light in athletics, being an all letter man this year. In military he is a success as a lieutenant. A great future is predicted for him, for he parts his hair in the middle as all other great men have done.

President Senior Class; Football Team '17-'18; Baseball Team '17-'18; Basketball Team '18; Latin Society; Boys' Literary Society; Spanish Society; Athletic Association; First Lieutenant Cadet Corps.

NOYES WILSON

Noyes is just one of the best friends the Class of 1918 possesses. By his faithfulness and ever-readiness to help, he has made himself an indispensable ally of the class. As he leaves J. M. and severs the many ties formed during his four years, he will carry with him the heartfelt wishes of his many friends and classmates, for as successful and bright a future as the Fates know how to weave.

Treasurer Senior Class; Boys' Literary Society; Athletic Association.

GRACE VIRGINIA BATKINS

G is for the greatest girl we know.
R is for the radiance she displays.
A is for the adoration we bestow.
C is for her captivating ways.
E is for her everlasting ease.

B for beauty, books, and brains.
A for art in knowing how to please.
T a token of the friends she gains.
K for knowledge wide and deep.
I for interesting intellect quite timely.
N for numerous friends to keep.
S success, which spells her name divinely.

Vice-President Senior Class; Associate Editor Record '17-'18; Spanish Society; Athletic Association; Girls' Literary Society.

HELEN LAND SIMPSON

Helen, better known as "Simp," is one whose name the Class of 1918 is proud to enroll among its numbers. Her four years with us, besides having proved her a brilliant student, have given her a place in the heart of each and every one of us. We would indeed have found it a long and dreary path had "Simp's" presence been lacking. Our one wish is that she may be as happy at Randolph-Macon as she has made us at John Marshall.

Athletic Association; Girls' Literary Society; Senior French Society; Pep Club; Secretary Class '18.

MABEL GERTRUDE ALWOOD

This fair maiden, loving and kind,
Is a genius such as you seldom find.
She's bright as the morn, sweet as the rose,
And she spreads sweet fragrance where'er she goes.

Girls' Literary Society; Senior French Society; Latin Society.

AILEEN E. ANDERSON

Her face is like a cherub;
She has dimples like an imp;
Her eyes like twin stars twinkle;
She's as airy as a nymph.
Beloved by all her classmates,
For her charming, winning smile,
Aileen alone is my colleen,
And she'll e'er my heart beguile.

Spanish Society; Athletic Association.

CLARA ANDERSON

Here she is—the best cure for the blues that one could find. Witty and entertaining, there is small room for despondency in her presence. Those who know her best like her best, and the longer they know her the better their opinion grows. Clara's future is undoubtedly bound up in domestic bliss, but here's hoping that whatever her calling may be, she may prove as successful as she deserves, which is very successful, indeed.

IRENE ANDREWS

Irene Andrews is her name;
You'll find it in the Hall of Fame.
She's studied lessons by the score,
But now for her, school days are o'er;
We hope in life she will succeed,
And find great happiness indeed.

GRAYCE ATKINSON

Pretty, sweet-tempered, witty, and the best cure for the "indigoes" ever invented, Grayce finds her way into every heart and there remains enthroned. Beware of those bewitching dimples!

AMBROSE ATWELL

Ambition and study,
Aspiring to fame;
Invention and patience
Will win him a name.

Boys' Literary Society; Athletic Association; Glee Club; Radio Club; Spanish Society.

VIRGINIA PRINCE BAILY

Knowing Virginia slightly, one would scarcely appreciate the fact that she is one of the merriest of our number, as well as one of the most dignified. What she says is always symbolic of her character, expressing her good nature, perseverance, and sincerity.

Girls' Literary Society. Athletic Association.

HOWARD BAKER

Up above Midlothian
Once there grew a lad
By the name of Baker;
Many joys he had,
Playing all the summer days,
Thinking nothing vile;
And these days are still reflected
In the sunlight of his smile.

John Marshall Orchestra; Research Society; Athletic Association.

PAULINE BAKER

Pauline is an attractive, bright-eyed maiden of whom her fellow-graduates are quite proud. Her winning ways and charming smile have won her many friends during her four years at John Marshall. Although we are not prophets, we feel quite safe in predicting for Pauline a successful career.

WILLARD G. BARKER

There are sergeants, corporals, and officers galore,
But there's one captain, Willard of the Cadet Corps.
His hair is dark, and his eyes quite brown;
His merry laughter is the cause of his renown.
It is known for and near that he can surely dance,
For at the ten-cent hops others stand no chance.
Here's to you, Willard, and when time begins to unroll,
May you love and be loved as in the days of old.

Captain Cadet Corps; Secretary Glee Club; Athletic Association.

WINIFRED BARKSDALE

Yes, that's Winifred hurrying around the hall, holding her head high, and apparently indifferent to what her companion is saying; but we soon learn that she has been listening, for suddenly she bursts forth into a merry peal of laughter, which does us good to hear. As a dutiful worker, as a delightfully gay companion, and as a sincere friend, no one surpasses Winifred.

Girls' Literary Society; Patriotic Club.

ROBERT JOSEPH BEATTY

Every one should know Joe by his smiling countenance. He is always happy, and insists that the world laugh with him. Joe came to us in 1916 from Chattanooga, Tennessee, and since he has been here, he has made many friends, especially among the fair sex. But Joe's popularity extends to the boys also, and he is a general favorite at John Marshall.

Glee Club; Athletic Association; Dramatic Club.

WILLIAM E. BECKWITH

If, in the halls of J. M., you accost a quiet, tall, intellectual-looking individual who gazes calmly down upon you and answers with a northern twang, that's William Beckwith. He is somewhat reserved until he is well-acquainted with you, but a staunch friend after he is. It is only necessary to say he hails from the heart of South Richmond and his characterization is complete.

EVA BEVERIDGE

Eva has pretty brown eyes and a winsome smile;
Charm of personality constitutes her style.
She is beloved at J. M. and has friends galore;
Dancing is her hobby; she finds nothing a bore.
Why do athletics interest her so much?
With all our games and track meets she always keeps in touch.

Secretary Athletic Association '17; Girls' Literary Society.

RYLAND ARWOOD BLAKEY

Here is Ryland! What he lacks in size, he makes up in noise and energy (?). Not always energy in the class room; oh, no! His Latin teacher says he devotes some of his energy to outdoor sports, especially "pony-riding," and has even been known to wish for something to ride in Spanish. He's a good fellow, though, and is pretty apt to get what he goes after.

Latin Society; Spanish Society; Boys' Literary Society; Athletic Association; Boys' Glee Club; Soccer Team.

MYRTLE BLANTON

There's a sweet old-fashioned flower, with a dear old-fashioned name.
For its beauty and its sweetness, it has won a worthy fame.
Now here's a girl who has the traits the myrtle flower has claimed;
She's as sweet and pure and lovely as the flower for which she's named.

Latin Society; French Society; Athletic Association.

KATHLEEN BOWDEN

Somebody said that "Kitty" is coy,
But we all agree she's a spreader of joy.
Take my advice if you are wise,
Gaze not into those bright brown eyes;
For if their light you go a-wooing,
'Twill surely be your heart's undoing.

Athletic Association; Girls' Literary Society; Spanish Society; Latin Society.

JAMES DENNIS BRADY

Mike is both a dancer and a ladies' man. If there is anything in the way of amusement going on, he is right there with bells on. His high forehead shows that he is intellectual, and is some day to be ranked along with the great lawyers—Henry, Marshall, and Webster. Here's luck anyway, old boy!

Glee Club; Athletic Association; Cadet Corps; Literary Society.

BESSIE BRIGHTWELL

The best adjectives to describe Bessie are quiet and demure. Her voice is rarely raised, and she is always serene and placid. Nevertheless, she has won many friends at J. M. with her gentle manner, and we all wish her the very best of luck in whatever she may undertake in the future.

Senior Spanish Society; Athletic Association.

KATHLEEN BRISTOW

Although rather retiring, Kathleen is just one of the best friends imaginable. We will miss her when she leaves J. M. and hope that the future holds in store for her all that's fair and good.

Athletic Association; Glee Club; Literary Society.

LOUISE BRITTLE

Louise has been loved ever since she came to us on account of her sweet, dainty ways and her never-failing good humor. Also, she is a charter member of that ne'er to be forgotten "No Nuthin' Party" in Mr. Stubbs's history class. (We are with you, Louise.)

Girls' Literary Society; Spanish Society; Athletic Association.

MABEL BRITTON

This young maiden called Mabel
Has charms which sound like a fable.
She's witty and sweet,
Wise, true, and discreet;
To describe her I'm really not able.

HELEN BROADRUP

Helen's four years at J. M. H. S. have been very successful ones. She has always been a good student and a true companion, and her strength of character is admired by all who know her.

Athletic Association.

MARY E. BROCK

We have come to the conclusion that it must have been one of the wise men who said, "Looks are deceiving." He must have had some such person as Mary in mind when he uttered these words of wisdom. Tell us the secret, Mary. How is it that you can be in the midst of the turmoil of the class room, but when the "marm" comes around, you always look up with that innocent smile which makes her pass you by without even a questioning glance? Here's to you, Mary! We all hope you will slip through life as easily as you slipped by the teachers.

Athletic Association.

DELIA BRYANT

Her disposition and her manner, all who know her admire. Once gained as a friend, this little maid can always be depended upon. Endowed by nature with a pleasant manner and a kindly disposition, Delia is indeed a friend to all.

JOHN MARSHALL BURTON

This rare specimen of humanity is as full of deviltry as a porcupine is of quills. Next to getting himself and some one else into mischief, he likes a joke, which he enjoys even more than holding a certain young lady's hand. In spite of all this, he is a good student, an authority on military, and an embryo politician, while his habitual good-nature makes him liked by all who know him.

Glee Club; Spanish Society; Athletic Association; Cadet Corps.

MARION CARMICHAEL

A voice so soft, a face so sweet,
A naive and charming air.
Then add to these two dancing feet,
Blue eyes and nut-brown hair;
And when all these in one form meet,
She is beyond compare.

Senior French Society; Athletic Association.

DWIGHT F. CARPENTER

Strong and muscular, a diligent student, a loyal friend, and absolute proof against the blandishments of the fair sex—that's Dwight. He talks little, laughs a bit, recites better, and has a grip like a 'possum's jaw. May he be a "carpenter" in deed as well as name, and build for himself a career of success and happiness.

Glee Club; Athletic Association; Cadet Corps; Spanish Society.

MARGARET VIRGINIA CARTER

Noted for her sweet disposition and never failing smile, Margaret is hailed with welcome wherever she goes. Though she is a very patriotic girl, she has completed four years of German with high honors. True to the feminine sex, she has not yet decided on her future vocation, but whatever it is, we know she will meet with success.

Girls' Literary Society; French Society; Athletic Association; Patriotic Club.

BAINBRIDGE SIDNEY CATES

"Bain" or "Cato," as he was affectionately "dubbed" by a loving old teacher, has become very popular with the opposite sex during his stay with us. Besides being a frequenter of the New England restaurant, he may be often found in his favorite "sticks." He is popular with a chosen set of the fair sex, but a rotten stenographer. We may expect great things—perhaps.

Athletic Association.

RUSSELL T. COBB

We do not know what "T" stands for, but we believe that it is for something as mysterious as wireless, physics, or chemistry, with which Russell loves to experiment. Russell is very energetic, and if he is as industrious in the future as he has been in the past, we believe he will succeed in anything he undertakes.

Chief Electrician Radio Club; Athletic Association.

FLORENCE FRANCES COLLINS

"Florence!" What fond memories does this name recall! She is all that her name implies—gentle, sweet, and lovable. Always brimming over with fun, always smiling, she has made her way through school as well as into our hearts. Along with Florence's studious temperament, she possesses a sincerity and frankness which have won for her a host of friends.

Athletic Association; Girls' Literary Society.

HILDA CORNELL

Sincerity, demure reserve, and a liberal allotment of that rare attribute, common sense—these are the qualities which characterize Hilda. She doesn't talk much, being a loyal exponent of the maxim, "Silence is golden," but what she does say is worth listening to.

MAMIE FOSTER CRUMP

Mamie means
Affable, attractive, artless, angelic (?),
Musical, modest, and merry,
Impulsive, industrious, intelligent, and Everything else exemplary.

Athletic Association; Girls' Literary Society; Vice-President Spanish Society; Latin Society.

NEIL CRUTCHFIELD

Neil's presence always has a light tendency, even if he tries to talk seriously. We can readily believe that the fair sex has no attraction for him. Neil intends to go to Annapolis, as naval work attracts him more than anything else. We know that he will prove successful in this career, and he leaves J. M. with best wishes from his friends.

CARLYLE DABNEY

"Buck" hails from the wilds of Guinea, Va. If you have ever seen the little crowds around him in the corridors, you will realize how popular he is. Till lately we thought him heart and fancy free, when lo, and behold! the prettiest valentine arrived from Savannah, Ga. Thus truth will out! But, to be serious, we are sure Carlyle has a brilliant future before him, and we wish him the "best o' luck."

BOSWELL UTZ DAVENPORT

Who is that mischievous, smiling boy sitting across the aisle? Why, that's Boswell, alias "Bud", "Bus", "Ulysses," etc. Tho' from the wilds of Ginter Park, his ever-present smile has never waned since he struck his favorite (?) Latin. Bashful? Yes, exceedingly. Our "Bud" has blossomed so that (mirabile dictu) no one would take him for the undersized insect that crawled in the back door four years ago. Hist!! A dark mystery now solved—the mysterious middle name, Utz.

Latin Society; Da Sociedad de Espanol; Athletic Association; Glee Club; Research Club.

ESTHER VIRGINIA DAVIS

She is the girl who's strictly in it,
Who doesn't lose her head for a minute,
Plays well the game and knows the limit,
And still gets all the fun there's in it!

Spanish Society; Athletic Association; Girls' Literary Society; French Society.

MARTHA WATSON DAVIS

There is a Senior in our school
  Who is beloved by all.
To go without her, I'm afraid
  John Marshall soon would fall.
We love her once, we love her twice,
  We love her three times over;
And when she leaves, I'm almost sure
  We'll lost the lucky clover.

Girls' Literary Society; Pep Club; Athletic Association; Senior French Society.

BESSIE LOWRIE DEVOL

Little girl Bessie,
  So gay and so bright;
She's all the time smiling,
  You know she's all right.
There are long, hard lessons,
  But what cares she?
So long as she is smiling,
  Everything is glee.

Girls' Literary Society.

MARY BRUCE DOSS

"Say, Mary, how are you getting along with your work?" "Sh, that's a secret!" However, it's one of the few secrets she keeps from her friends. An ever ready "Il etait" this and "Il etait" that, bursts forth on all occasions. Some people think she is "absolutely nutty," but she's not—she's a trump!

Athletic Association; Girls' Literary Literary Society; Class Representative.

LULA MAE DRAKE

"Modesty and merit," says a seer of olden days,
"Go hand in hand together, and both of them we praise."
Now here in this wee maid you see,
Those virtues named above;
And that is just the reason she wins everybody's love.

ALMA ALOISE DUKE

Who does not know "gracious" Alma with her charming ways and sunny smile? The saying that "precious things are done up in small packages" holds true here, for although small in stature, she is large in heart and in knowledge. One is indeed fortunate in having her for a friend, for she is always willing to lend a hand in time of trouble.

Athletic Association; Girls' Literary Society; Senior French Society; Latin Society.

ELSIE MARIE DUKE

What Marshallite does not know Elsie? She wears an air of perfect peace and contentment, and her soft brown eyes are the mirrors of a pure and lovely soul. She is loved by her classmates, and has always proved a good student and a true friend.

Athletic Association; Senior French Society; Girls' Literary Society; Latin Society.

IRVING T. DUKE

Irving has spent four most successful years at John Marshall. In the class room he was the student, and has repeatedly stood at the head of his class. However, out of school he is always ready for fun and a good time. He can dance just as well as he can read Vergil. Because of his literary ability, Irving has had the honor of being editor-in-chief of the school magazine longer than any previous editor. Don't be surprised if you find yourself, about ten years from now, absorbed in an essay or novel by Irving T. Duke. He will be greatly missed at John Marshall.

President Class '14-'15-'16; Editor-in-chief Record, '16-'17, '17-'18; Athletic Association; Literary Society; Latin Society; Spanish Society.

JULIA A. DUNN

The old saying that "the finest things come in small packages" is quite true. Julia is indeed quite small, but she has long been the sunbeam of her classes. With a smile and a pleasant word for every one, she has always found a place in the hearts of her companions.

MOLLIE DU VAL

Mollie is a lovable, kindly person; a very help in time of trouble by means of a certain mental characteristic—the tendency of her mind to fasten upon little odd details. She is delightfully credulous, and as ready to receive as to offer the good will for the deed.

Senior French Society.

JULIA ELAM

Joyful and happy
Unselfish and true;
Loving and friendly,
Intellectual, too—
All this and more, is Julia.

Latin Society; Junior French Society; Athletic Association.

ELIZA ELDRIDGE

In departing from old J. M.
We leave with heavy heart,
But we carry with us a likeness
That our class from it may never part.
This girl is fair and sweet and true,
And all her classmates prize her,
With her charming smile as ever new—
This girl we love,—Eliza.

Latin Society; Spanish Society; Athletic Association.

IVA JOSEPHINE ELLETT

There is no need to introduce Iva, as every one who attends J. M. H. S. knows this dainty maiden. She has sparkling blue eyes, and because of her charming personality, has gained for herself a host of friends.

Athletic Association; Patriotic Club.

NANNIE ELLIS

Here's a young lady whom we all admire.
She's full of humor, ambition and fire.
Her wisdom and tact have simply no end.
What's better than all, she's a true-hearted friend.

Senior French Society; Latin Society.

ESSIE EHRSTEIN

For the entire four years during which Essie attended J. M. H. S., she has been one of its most loyal students. Her untiring work in the orchestra has shown her devotion and loyalty to the school. The wish of all her friends is that her career in the future will be as successful as that in the past.

MARY FARMER

Here is the girl who is never wearied, never "flustrated." The ordinary trials and cares of school life do not disturb her serene existence. While others are fuming and fretting, Mary packs up her troubles and smiles! smiles! smiles!

Senior French Sociey; Girls' Literary Society.

SAMUEL CODRINGTON FLANAGAN

The year 1915 brought to John Marshall from Powhatan County, Va., a bashful young man in the person of Sam. Now he has quite outgrown his bashfulness, and is recognized as a "jolly good fellow." Work with him is a pleasure, and he has entered upon it with a determination to win. He expects to enter Richmond College in September, and his many friends wish him success.

WILLIAM FOSTER FLETCHER

Hailing from Eastern Shore, Va., tall, blue-eyed Foster joined our ranks in September, 1916. He has since become a most loyal, hard-working Marshallite. Our new Service Flag is a product of his hard work (?). Among his other accomplishments is clog dancing, which, together with his remarkable (?) build, won for him the office of Chief Clog Dancer and Sergeant-at-Arms in the Glee Club.

Glee Club; Athletic Association; Cadet Corps.

PHILLIP FORMAN

"What have you read, Forman?" asked a teacher. Forman, suddenly aroused from a most entertaining conversation with a charming young lady, answered, "Hair." Thus, this good-natured, easy-going lad, whose energy has been largely consumed in growing a superfluous crop of bright red hair, has furnished J. M. with a good joke. Philip is destined to enter college, where a bright future awaits him.

JOSEPH FOLKES

Joe has certainly made his English classes shriek with delight from the time he scurried around the corridors peeping into rooms with the haunted look of an overgrown rodent, up to now. Even the teachers have been compelled to smile at his wit. We predict that when the "one and only" Joe comes out as a comedian, "Fatty" Arbuckle will shrivel with worry.

Boys' Literary Society; Spanish Society; Latin Society; Tennis Club; Cadet Corps; Athletic Association.

MIRIAM FRANCIS

Miriam Francis is next on our list,
Sweet sixteen and never been kissed.
She's dainty and neat from her head to her feet,
With a sparkling wit that's hard to beat.
And now as she starts out on life's way,
We wish her a future both rosy and gay;
We hope her path will be strewn with success,
And her life forever quite free from distress.

Secretary Senior French Society; Girls' Literary Society.

CECIL GARLICK

We are assured that every one has seen him do Y. M. C. A. stunts at the lunch counter for the last piece of cocoanut pie. Cecil is very good-looking, and fox trots have no terrors for him. Although a descendant of the House of Lancaster, he prefers flowers in Highland Park to red roses.

Athletic Association; French Society.

ESTHER GARTHRIGHT

Some folks I know were surely born
Beneath a star of luck.
But in Esther's "browscope" there are
A dozen stars of pluck.

Athletic Association.

MARION F. GARY

She is a winsome brown-eyed maiden,
With dark brown curling locks;
With charms she is quite laden,
While admirers round her flock,
Her laughter and coquettish way
Quite easily each one beguile.
She keeps us all in a mood so gay
With her merry talk and smile.

"Pep" Club; Girls' Literary Society; Senior French Society; Athletic Association.

BERNHARD GASSER

Although Bernhard has never been connected with the editorial staff of our school paper, or taken part in athletics, he has become widely known through having his name continually announced as a Roll of Honor pupil.. "It is wise to keep silent than to know everything," certainly applies to him, as he never appears to know anything about a subject until questioned. If he continue his studies with the same vim and determination his ambition will certainly be realized.

Athletic Association; Boys' Literary Society; Secretary and President of Radio Club.

BESSIE JOHNSON GILL

We have in our midst a blue-eyed child,
Whose manner is gentle, and sweet, and mild;
Capable, willing, and ready to do,
Of girls like her, you'll find very few.

Athletic Association; Literary Society; Patriotic Club.

FLORENCE GILL

Although Florence does not come and go with a splutter, yet she creates an atmosphere of sweetness and fragrance wherever she moves.

Athletic Association.

CARL HUGO GOEPFARTH

Carl has not a single enemy, and his good disposition and smiling countenance encourage the friendship of every one. He is a very energetic youngster in addition to being a true friend. He is a man of varied activities, ranging from a musician to a movie "fan." His chief interest, however, lies in making himself agreeable to the fair sex, and in our opinion he is most successful. We wish him much success in life, which will be but the result of his untiring efforts.

LOUISE GOODE

Louise's motto is, "No one can live unto himself." By her unselfish and steadfast devotion to her friends, she proves this. She is most at home in the atmosphere of mathematics. Lingering memory of her charms will remain with all those who knew her long after J. M. days are over.

Latin Society; Spanish Society; Athletic Association.

REX LOUIS GOODE

We wonder what the sages have in store for this genius of dark, wavy locks, hazel eyes, and, withal, a very courteous and charming manner. He is always bubbling over with school spirit and patriotism. He is also a general favorite among teachers and pupils, and long after Rex has left John Marshall his name will linger in the memories of his friends.

Athletic Association; Boys' Literary Society; Radio Club; Spanish Society; Tennis Club; Glee Club.

RICHARD WRIGHT GORMAN

There are some who look upon life as one long series of misfortunes, while others take it as a joke. Among the few who have struck the happy medium between these two, is Richard Gorman. Always cheerful, always obliging, always courteous, he has made friends of all with whom he has come in contact. In the class room, he has proved himself a diligent, faithful, and earnest student. Wherever he may go, whatever he may undertake as his life work, he carries with him the good will of his Alma Mater.

GARNET GRANGER

To those of us who are blest with Garnet's friendship, we hold it a precious and valuable possession. As a companion she is the jolliest and most lovable in the world. Her most striking characteristic is her unparalleled good humor. Surely no one needs a better recommendation. Garnet's greatest ambition is to be perfect in English. Why? Ask her; she is a truthful soul.

Literary Society; Spanish Society; Glee Club.

RICHARD GRANT

Has any one here seen Dick? You say you don't know him? How strange! I thought every one at John Marshall knew Dick Grant. Yes, I mean that good-looking lieutenant who is sought after by all. You've seen him hundreds of times, either blarneying the teachers, being fussed over by the girls, or joking with the boys. Popular? Yes, indeed. But sh! Here he comes now and needs no further introduction. Just ask John Marshall about him.

Athletic Association; Glee Club; Junior French Society; Second Lieutenant Cadet Corps; Dramatic Club.

CHARLES COAKLEY GRAVES, JR.

We usually call him "C. C.," but on several occasions "Sea-Sick" is the salutation used. The latter happens only when he is about to favor us with an oratorical selection or when he displays his histrionic ability in "The Comedy of Errors." "C. C.'s" ambition is to be a famous doctor and go down in history as a benefactor of the human race. He will doubtless make the astonishing discovery that pickled prune-juice is good for the sting of an enraged horse-radish.

Glee Club; Athletic Association; Cadet Corps; (Lame Foot Society); Literary Society; Research Society.

ELEANOR GREENAWALT

Here's a maid so sweet and fair,
So bonny, blithe, and debonair,
With hair so dark and eyes so bright,
With mind so deep and heart so light,
She makes sweet friends where'er she goes,
And is greatly loved by all she knows.

Girls' Literary Society; Athletic Association; Latin Society.

HARVEY B. HAAG

Have any of you noticed a boy, invariably decked with a rare and radiant cravat, ambling up the corridor with the dignified speed of a snail? Well, that's "Haagie." He says, "Why rush around when you have three whole minutes to change classes?" What! Jokes? No, don't try to tell him any, as he is three weeks ahead in this line, and can trace the development of a joke from its earliest stage.

Athletic Association; Spanish Society.

JAMES ROSS HARRIS

James, widely known as ''Jasper'' is a rangy six-footer, and is one of the best basket-ball centers. J. M. has ever produced. If you like to play basketball, and would also like to get ''roughed up,'' then play against this giant. He is some ''asterisk'' if he does come from Highland Park.

Athletic Association; Basket-ball Team; Joke Editor of The Record.

LILLIAN HARRIS

You all know her, so why describe her? She is everything, from a charmer of boys to the best pal a girl ever had. To see Lilly is to see a mop of golden hair above two big blue eyes, and lips that ever smile. If you have not seen her dance, the best part of your life is before you. We wish her as much happiness as this old world can bring —and may she bring as much joy to hearts in later life as she did while at J. M. H. S.

Girls' Literary Society; Athletic Association; Subscription Committee of Record.

JOSEPHINE HARRISON

Though ''Jo'' has been with the Class of '18 only one year, she will dwell always in our affectionate remembrances; for the sunny nature and attractive disposition of our little ''Senior rat'' has endeared her to all. We will say in passing that she has light hair, blue eyes, and possesses a smile which some of our brave cadet officers ''grant'' to be as effective as machine-gun fire. May she always receive as full measure of happiness as her companionship gives to her friends.

Athletic Association; Literary Society.

JUDSON HARRY

He is another of the Class's small members (of course we mean physically). A good student, a serious worker, Judson always stands well in his studies. His is rather a practical mind which will make him successful in his future career. If his life is indicative of his future, he will certainly make a name for himself.

EMMA COREY HAY

This is Emma, obliging and kind,
With a bright and cheerful turn of mind;
She's full of fun, happy and gay—
All this, and more, describes Emma Hay

Patriotic Club; Athletic Association.

GEORGE HELLER

About two months after the Kaiser started the great world conflict, George dropped in on J. M. for a little visit of about four years. Ever since that memorable day, he has been taxing his massive (?) brain to become a Senior, always looking forward to the time when he could laud it over the "rats." George has done well in his studies, and during his four-year sojourn here has acquired a host of friends. Success is awaiting him.

Athletic Association; Tennis Club; Boys' Literary Society; Latin Society.

LOIS HENDRICK

We shall all remember Lois for her brilliancy in the "public speaking" line; likewise for her ability to handle the wraps in the locker. To enumerate Lois's friends and silent (?) admirers would indeed be a Herculean task, so we'll just add that we hope the day will soon approach when Lois will occupy a position in the President's cabinet—if not the presidential chair itself.

Literary Society; Secretary and Treasurer of Spanish Society.

JEANETTE HENNA

A sweet old-fashioned girl we've met,
With a sweet old-fashioned name.
Now we all know her name's Jeanette,
And we wish her luck and fame.

Latin Society; Senior French Society.

LOUISE DUDLEY HEINRICH

Hair like a raven's wing, eyes like starry gems, wonderfully white teeth, a sweet mouth, dainty, cheerful, friendly, good-natured, lovable, learned—this is Dudley.

Athletic Association.

AVIS HILLSMAN

Here's to the girl who's the prettiest of all,
The cutest, sweetest, slim and tall,
With beautiful eyes like cerulean skies;
Stylish and graceful, she's strictly in it,
And doesn't lose her head even for a minute.
Joy and success your whole life through,
Avis, we all wish you.

Athletic Association; Spanish Society, Latin Society; Mathematics Society.

VIRGINIA WALLER HOLLADAY

Here is a bookworm, little and fat,
Nibbling this book and tasting that,
To Kipling's jungle she loves to go,
Then back with Scott to the long ago;
Curled up with a book in the old arm-chair,
Her laugh rings out on the evening air.

MARGARET E. HOOKER

Pretty, dainty, and petite,
She's a girl we love to meet;
Always ready with a smile,
Merry, joyous all the while;
Eyes that rival Heaven's blue,
And sparkle like the morning dew;
To her friends she's Margaret,
A classmate whom we'll ne'er forget.

Senior French Society; Latin Society; Girls' Literary Society; Athletic Association.

MAUDE S. HOOKER

Everybody knows the girl with the sunny smile and laughing blue eyes, who is always ready to put life into anything from the Pep Club down to "Baby Done Lost the Key." When we think of how she stands up for the old White and Blue, we cease to wonder why she holds such a well fortified place in the hearts of Seniors. May she always be the bright, happy success in life that she has always been at John Marshall!

Athletic Association; Senior French Society; Reporter Latin Society; Girls' Literary Society; Pep Club.

HELEN M. HOOPER

To know her is to love her;
And you must know her, too;
To prove her sterling character,
Her friendship strong and true.

Girls' Literary Society; Vice-President of Patriotic Society.

GRACE ESTELLE HOUGHTON

Just four years ago,
So timid, you know,
This brown-eyed maid
Entered our first grade.
The depths of her eyes
Do not surprise,
When the depths
Of her heart you know.

Athletic Association; Patriotic Club.

HELEN HUNTLEY

Although Helen generally has very little to say, yet she is a well-known figure in our Class. She possesses one predominant trait—she "adores" dancing! But none who have seen her dance wonder at this. All of her classmates give her up with reluctance and wish her the brightest of futures.

GLADYS INGALLS

Who of us does not know Gladys? For lo, these many years, she has been among us, winning friends and making for herself a place in old J. M.'s heart. We hate to give her up, but 'tis inevitable; and as she goes out from her Alma Mater, may success and happiness accompany her.

GREY ROBINSON JEWETT

"If not a ladies' man—nothing." If you could imagine a telegraph pole with a smile, you could easily dispense with this picture. However, in spite of his height, "Legs" is quite some speaker and athlete, which fact, together with his pink shirts, green ties, and good looks (?) has broken many a fair lady's heart. Here's luck, "Legs."

Boys' Literary Society; Glee Club; Athletic Association; Spanish Society.

GWENDOLYN MARY JEWETT

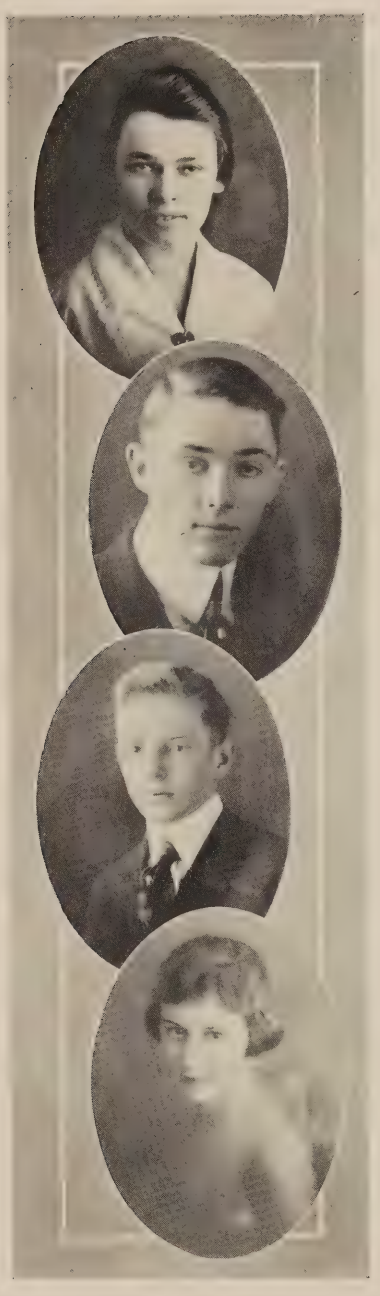
Her personality, you ask? Charming, for to know her is to love her. Ready of wit, generous, thoughtful, full of life and love is the little red-haired girl who boasts of having come from the wonderful city across the river.

Athletic Association; Spanish Society; Carrot Tops.

ALBON M. JONES

Albon is among the best known students of the Class of '18. He is very popular with the ladies and is the star at every dance. We hope that Albon will always keep the many friends that he has, and have great success in the future.

Literary Society; Glee Club; Latin Society.



CELESTE JONES

Here is the human question mark. Her favorite queries are, ''Do you think we will have a test?'' and ''Do you know this?'' Asking questions is only one of her accomplishments. She has won many friends during her four years with us, and w all wish her success.

French Society; Latin Society; Athletic Association.

MELVIN JONES

Who doesn't know Ed but to love him? With his cheerful smile and pleasing tenor voice he charms all who become acquainted with him. Melvin is a letter man on the football team, and an enthusiastic participator in all the other branches of athletics at John Marshall. When it comes down to work, Ed is right there. Not even the Æneid or the hardest problems in geometry could withstand the untiring and incessant attacks he made on them.

Praetor Latin Society; Football Team, '16-'17.

ORVIN CLARENCE JONES

Jones is right there with the Latin, sailing over Aneas's ''wanderings'' with a breeze of 90 or better. Have you ever, at one of the J. M. basketball games, seen a small package of dynamite here, there, everywhere—all at one time? That's ''Trifling'' Jones. ''Trifling,'' like Miles Standish, does not trifle with the girls—except maybe that little Portsmouth girl. But that's another story!

Athletic Association; Spanish Society; Basketball Team, '18.

FRANCES JORDAN

Every one at John Marshall knows Frances and recognizes in her a true friend and amiable companion. She has made quite a fine record during her stay here, and in consequence possesses a retinue of friends, both among teachers and pupils. When she leaves J. M., she carries with her the hearty good wishes of her classmates for as bright a future as the past.

ROBERT E. JOSEPH

Robert Joseph numbers his friends by the hundred. His kindness and good humor are irresistible, and he is a general favorite with both teachers and pupils. No social affair is complete without his presence. But "Mike" is not frivolous; on the drill ground he is a stern disciplinarian; and in the class room he is serious-minded and diligent. His many friends will be sorry to part with him, but they know that he will never be anything but a credit to old J. M.

Second Lieutenant Cadet Corps; Soccer Team, '17; Boys' Literary Society; Athletic Association; Mathematics Club.

EVA WARD KEMPER

Her hair is light, her eyes are blue
And twinkle like the morning dew;
She plays and sings and laughs and jokes,
And tells you 'bout the funny folks.

At work, at play, she's just the same,
She puts the "pep" into the game;
She plays it well, and she plays it hard,
She's a good old sport—that's Eva Ward.

Literary Society; Patriotic Club.

MILDRED A. KLINE

This is a young lady called Miss Mildred Kline,
On English and Latin she surely does shine;
To stand first in her class, she'll always endeavor;
What's more, she succeeds, for she's wondrously clever.

Latin Society; Senior French Society.

RUTH ANNA KNIBB

Ruth was not sent to us to be a model, but she came with a bigger trust to fill, for she came as a friend, bringing with her a contagious determination to succeed. Her efforts have known no such thing as failure and for her future we see life in its broad sense because of her smile and her unconquerable will. Ruth, we've been glad to know you and we thank Cardwell High for its loan, even though it was only for a year.

Girls' Glee Club.

Henry Lawrence

HENRY LAWRENCE

"With his cute bow tie and his wobbly little walk, Oh, how he makes the fair damsels talk!"
That's Henry, the wit of J. M.

RUTH LECKY

Who doesn't know the attractive, pretty girl who blushes and smiles on every occasion. But the smiles mean sympathy; and the blushes, modesty, and—well, judge for yourself what else.

French Society; Spanish Society.

CELIA LEVINSON

There was a little girl and she had a little curl
As bewitching as curls can be;
She had also a voice to make one rejoice,
'Twas of such a sweet tone and low key.

Latin Society; Girls' Literary Society; Sports Club; Patriotic Club.

ESSIE LEVY

"Still waters are deep" is a proverb which can justly be applied to Essie. She is reticent and quiet, but in those dark brown eyes lurks an ever-smoldering fire. If ever Essie has a grudge against you, it's awful; but in spite of this fact, she is a favorite among her friends and numerous admirers.

Girls' Literary Society; Athletic Association; Junior French Society; Sports Club.

POCAHONTAS FARRAR LIPSCOMB

Three years ago she came to us, a bashful, pretty young lass,
And 'ere a year had passed away, she had the heart of her Class.
Since then we've loved her dearly; she's a regular sport and "pal."
Many a friend has felt her spell; she's been many a boy's "gal."
The years may come, the years may pass, but well do we all know
That Pocahontas will bring good cheer wherever she may go.

Girls' Literary Society; Athletic Association; Dramatic Club.

GLENNA MAYFIELD LOVING

A dimple, a smile, and laughing gray eyes
Make up this winsome girl so wise.
Gentle in manner and modest in mien,
A name more fitting was never yet seen.

Athletic Association; French Society; Girls' Literary Society; President Patriotic Club.

EUGENE LOWRY

Eugene is a quiet, pleasant-mannered fellow with an ever-ready smile, who goes unobtrusively about his business, and, in consequence, has numerous friends among both teachers and pupils. He is successful in his studies, habitually good-natured, and always ready to do some one a favor. Here's best wishes for his future success.

LOUISE V. LYZOTTE

Did you ever feel that you would give half of your kingdom to be pretty, petite, and popular? Louise has never had to wish that, as she is all three. She possesses a very sunny disposition, and it can be truly said that "to know her is to love her."

Athletic Association; French Society.

FRANK MANHART

"Manly" his friends call him, and well does he deserve the name, for he is every inch a man. "Manly" is entirely free from one great ailment, which troubles most boys; that is, he cares nothing for girls. Whether it is bashfulness or indifference, we know not. "Manly's" modesty prevents him from becoming a great poet. If his poem, entitled "V. V.'s Eyes," and his ponctic version of Vergil were printed, he would be immortal.

Vice-President Boys' Literary Society

RUTH MARKS

"Sorry, but I've just a quarter, and that's hardly enough to buy my own." We recognize this as a conversation between Ruth and some of her lunch partners. Regardless of her capacity to devour food, Ruth has managed to conquer German (not Germany), and is at last a sweet girl graduate with no regrets behind her.

Girls' Literary Society; Athletic Association.

ROBERT MARTIN

If you have ever seen an average-sized boy, wearing "goggles" and a cadet uniform, and walking around with one book under his arm, you can safely say that is "Bob" Martin. "Bob" is a fine fellow, but he has one weakness (?)—the ladies. Some say he is a fickle youth. However, he is certainly a "steady" around one house. "Bob" has a host of friends, and we all wish him great success in his future endeavors.

Senior French Society; Cadet Corps; Glee Club.

THOMAS MARTIN

"Icky's" name is a synonym for industry. After school, when others play, he works. Before school, when others sleep, he studies. Nevertheless, he can always find time to help a friend. We shall hear of him again in the world of business.

MARY MAYNARD

This charming Miss Mary
Is unlike her namesake—contrary.
Her garden will grow,
For she can weed her own row.
Silver bells she mayn't raise,
But she's a belle beyond praise.

Girls' Literary Society; Senior French Society; Junior Spanish Society; Athletic Association.

FRANK MELTON

When our famous battalion was organized, Frank was among the first to have his measure taken. Since then he has been a faithful cadet, as well as a diligent scholar; and in his case, virtue has had its reward.

Cadet Corps; Latin Society; Athletic Association.

KATHERINE MELTON

During her entire four years at J. M. she has been making friends, by her bright smile, quiet manner and her ever-readiness to help. Here's to you, Katherine, and in the years to come may you always keep that smile and happy good humor ready to carry you victorious through whatever you may undertake.

Latin Society; Athletic Association.

ANNA R. MEYER

Did you ever see Anna without a smile? She is forever chatting gaily, and telling you something interesting! And should you ever want a problem solved, Anna is right there, for she is a prominent mathematician at J. M. H. S.

Sports Club; Girls' Literary Society; French Society.

H. MITCHELL MEYER

Once upon a time (four years ago) a little boy from across the mighty James hopped gracefully off the Hull street car at Eighth street, and became a "rat" at J. M. Ever since his smiling presence would be encountered somewhere between the Annex and the third floor. Mitchell doesn't care much for the ladies yet, but he has a bright outlook. Such a scholar and philosopher could never "get by" without it.

Boys' Literary Society; Latin Society; Cadet Corps.

WILLIE MILLER

This fellow with dark curly hair and brown eyes is an all-round good sport. He is also a great admirer of the fair sex. Willie is the proud possessor of a "flivver" (not a Ford), and shows his friends a good time. If you ever see a boy sitting in a car, parked in front of school at recess, eagerly watching the proceedings of the Pep Club, you can rest assured that's Willie.

Athletic Association; Soccer Team '17 and '18; Glee Club; Tennis Club.

N. HOWARD MILLS

"Dick" is noted for his genial good nature, ready smile, and hearty laugh. He is a regular "bear" among the ladies, and what a dancer! The girls have made him their little pet. How about it, "Dick?"

Glee Club; Athletic Association.

WILLIE MAE MILLS

"The mills of the gods grind slowly,"
But these are mills of the past.
This Mills of to-day is more noteworthy,
Because Mae is a dear little lass.
No girl is more of a favorite,
Than Mae is with her class.
Here's hoping she'll still keep the friends
She's always had in the past.

Athletic Association; Patriotic Club.

NANNIE MAE MORRIS

Ever since she entered our dear old school Nannie Mae has loved and been loved on account of her charming ways and sweet simplicity. "A thing of beauty is a joy forever," and she has proved this motto beyond doubt. May she always be the happy, lovable girl she was in the days of '18.

French Society; Athletic Association; Literary Society; Latin Society.

ELIZABETH SIDNEY MORTON

Sidney has large, very large, brown eyes, and although sometimes they can be dreamy, they are usually sparkling with mischief and humor. She is a talker, too, and chatters incessantly in every class. She has smiled herself into the hearts of us all, and every one declares "Sid" to be an all-around jolly good fellow.

Athletic Association; French Society; Girls' Literary Society.

WOOD McCASLIN

He is said to have come from Illinois, but from his appearance he is probably from Ireland. His favorite amusement is being kept in for shorthand. At least, he certainly "has the habit." He hopes the brilliance of his hair will make up for the lack of quality in other lines.

Athletic Association; Glee Club; Boys' Literary Society.

DOROTHY McCAW

Fair Dorothy with her winning smile
Will many a heart beguile;
She doesn't care so much for looks,
But gives a lot of time to books;
Indeed, she is so full of knowledge
She'll never have to go to college.

Dramatic Club.

ELOISE MERRILL McEWEN

Just another proof that sweetest qualities come in small packages, for Eloise is as dainty, and sweet, and joyous as the sunbeams stowed in her hair. Just a combination of light hair, laughing blue eyes, smiling lips, and a perfect complexion—a creature of such winsome beauty and lovable personality that she is perfectly irresistible. Aside from this, she is an artistic genius and paints pictures—real good pictures, too. Here's wishing her all the success and happiness she deserves.

CAROLYN VIRGINIA McKEE

Here's to the girl with a heart and a smile,
That makes this bubble of life worth while.
She is witty and pretty and very wise,
And has wonderful R. S. V. P. eyes.
Her host of friends and admirers here
Will always remember her smile of cheer.
We wish you, Carolyn, much success,
All kinds of good luck and happiness.

Treasurer French Society; Vice-President French Society; Athletic Association; Girls' Literary Society.

WILHELMINA NEWMAN

Wilhelmina is one of those happy, carefree beings who "can't be bothered" by anything—with the exception, perhaps, of oral compositions. As she leaves John Marshall she carries with her the best wishes of her many friends for future success and happiness.

FRANCES N. NICHOLS

Enter Frances! She is tall, brown-eyed, and dark-haired. Her favorite stunt is to come panting down Broad street at 8:44. Her hobby is studying (?) Latin, although she does care a little for swimming, dancing, and eating. Frances has endeared herself to all of us as well as to "Camp Lee." We do not have to wish her success for we know that it will come to her.

Athletic Association; Spanish Society; Latin Society.

ALFRED ELLIS NOLAN

Behold "Jeff," the bicycle speeder! He comes from the West End in record time, and has been rpeatedly cautioned by "speed cops," who are looking out for the welfare of pedestrians. Although "Jeff" is small of stature, he is large of mind. He is a good student and believes in keeping quiet while his fellow-students show their ignorance. "Jeff" has always been a good comrade, and we all join in wishing him success in the future.

Athletic Association; Radio Club; Spanish Society.

BURTON BROOKS OWEN

"English" is a confirmed wearer of baggy trousers, and can tumble like a tumbler pigeon. The reason for his athletic ability is that he was reared in the backwoods of Forest Hill.

President Radio Club; Athletic Association.

NANNIE TAYLOR PACE

Soft brown eyes, demure and staid,
And winning ways make up this maid;
Unassuming, yet lovable too,
A girl with a heart of real true blue.

Athletic Association; Girls' Literary Society; French Society; Patriotic Club.

BLAND PAMPLIN

When you hear an outburst of laughter and see a cloud of dust, it's just Bland. He needs no introduction, for he has been an ornament at J. M. H. S. for, well, not much over four years. During this time he has not only gained much wisdom, but has broken a number of fair maidens' hearts. Ask a certain young lady in the western part of the city about the latter of his accomplishments. Bland is sure to be a success, and before long he will be pre-eminent in the world's Hall of Fame.

Boys' Literary Society; Athletic Association; Glee Club.

G. CLIFTON PATTERSON

Here's a boy with a happy face,
A well built fellow with manly grace,
A sunny smile and a friendly air,
Dark blue eyes and a shock of hair.
In all his classes he stands just fine,
But math is where he can simply shine.
Take him all-in-all together,
He's a tip-top, jolly good fellow.

Athletic Association; Research Club; Glee Club.

ARTHUR PERKINS

Although "Dopey" poses as a "gentleman crook," it is rumored that he is merely a Texas cow-boy, as he formerly resided in that State. He must have lived in several localities, as he is an authority on the various brands of slang, which he uses very eloquently in English class.

End Man in Glee Club.

THELMA PHILLIPS

Thelma's motto is, "Laugh and the world laughs with you," and she lives up to it. By her cheerful manner she has won many friends, who all wish her success in whatever she undertakes.

French Society; Girls' Literary Society; Athletic Association.

CLARA PIERCE

For four years she has been one of us, and a true friend we have found her. Her charming personality has secured for her the love of all, and we hope that her future may be filled with joy and happiness.

French Society; Latin Society; Athletic Association.

HELEN BEEMMA PRITCHARD

Helen, generally quiet and sedate, has the knack of listening to all of our opinions and then forming her own. She is winsome in her gentleness; as wise as she is winsome; as good as she is wise; and as true and trustworthy as she is good.

Reporter Patriotic Club; Girls' Literary Society; Athletic Association.

LILLIAN PULLIAM

Lillian has a host of friends,
Who will miss her when the session ends.

Spanish Society; Athletic Association.

BERNICE PURDIE

She's a black-haired girl with a winning smile,
A positive way, and eyes that beguile.
Her brain is quite active; she's a dandy sport,
And is always ready her school to support.
She's a sweet old girl as her friends all rule.
And we'll miss our chum when she leaves the school.

Senior French Society; Latin Society; Athletic Association; Girls' Literary Society.

LUCILLE MARIA RANKIN

Enter Lucille! "Once a friend, always a friend!" She is always the same—to-day, to-morrow, and forever. In addition to Lucille's studious temperament, her charms have woven a tangling net of fascination about us. Her gentle manner and generous heart have held our love and friendship through her high school career.

Athletic Association; Girls' Literary Society; Spanish Society; Junior French Society.

ANNA MAE REAMS

As her name implies, our "Midget" is very small, and this is probably the reason she likes her Latin 8 class so well. Her size, however, did not block her plans to any extent, and one sees her making her way from said Latin class to the Business College.

WILLIAM F. REYNOLDS

The best natured person in all the world—
They say it's because he's fat;
Well, if that's the cause, I only wish
More folks were like that.
Just look at the smile on his fat round face,
That runs down under his chin.
If you feel down and out, you'll want to shout
When you see Bill Reynolds' grin.

Dramatic Society.

JOHN FRANCIS RIBBLE

There's "Jack" of noble beanstalk fame,
And "Jack who sails the seas,
Jack o' Lantern, old Jack Spratt,
Many "Jacks" there be;
There's Jack who loved the bonny Jill,
But there will be no quibble,
If I assert the best of all
Is '18's own "Jack" Ribble.

Glee Club; Athletic Association; Color Sergeant Cadet Corps.

GEORGE C. RICHWINE

George is a small, quiet person who has sojourned at John Marshall "just" four years. "Let George do it" has been a sort of class byword, because he will help in any way he can. If continues in the way he has begun, it is a certainty that Dame Fortune will smile on him.

LUCILLE T. ROBERTSON

There is not a lass in all the world
More bright, more winsome than this girl;
Truth and honor do combine
To make of her a woman fine.

LITTLETON RODEN

"Mike," one of the notables at J. M., is liked by all. As one teacher has appropriately remarked: "There is a place where the sun is like gold, but not more so than this youth's golden locks. They show his disposition—all happiness and brightness."

VIOLET M. ROWLETT

If you want a girl that's jolly,
  If you want a girl that's fine,
If you want a girl that'll help you,
  I have such a one in mind!
Her hair is gold, her eyes are brown;
She's the sweetest girl in this old town,
Unassuming and lovable too,
A girl with a heart of real true blue.

Patriotic Club; Girls' Literary Society.

HENRIETTA HARRISON RUFFIN

This Senior now is very small,
Full of life, beloved by all;
Earnest, too, in all her work;
A task begun she'll never shirk;
Cute, attractive, bright and witty—
But how describe her in a ditty?

Athletic Association.

MURIEL I. SANDERS

The ten commandments teach us "Thou shalt not covet." But who of us can suppress the little twinge of envy that comes with a glimpse of Muriel's wonderful chirography? Even her rough copies and scrappy notes put to shame our most brilliant attempts. Neatness personified, amiable, and studious, her friends are many; her enemies few.

Girls' Literary Society; Latin Society; Spanish Society; Athletic Association.

GEORGIE SCRUGGS

She is delightfully "feminine," with the best that the term implies. One who knows Georgie will always delight in the sweetness of her disposition, of which those dimples are a sure indication.

DONALD HOLLIS SELVAGE

He is little, but oh! so loud. In October, some years ago, a brown-eyed, black-haired Kentuckian made his appearance at J. M. H. S. Since then, he has made many friends and accomplished many feats, among which his triumphs in soccer rank highest. He is also a singer of "some note," and holds the office of "Chief Nutt" in the Glee Club.

Boys' Literary Society; Cadet Corps; Glee Club; Athletic Association; Soccer Team.

ELLEN GLADYS SHAW

Not a great talker is Gladys, but withal one who knows how to say exactly what she wants to say. During her stay at John Marshall she has distinguished herself as a student, especially in English. Gladys is particularly original in her stories, even to the extent that she may some day develop into a great novelist. However, we feel sure that whatever she undertakes will be a complete success, and sooner or later genuine worth will assert itslf and receive its reward.

Girls' Literary Society; Latin Society; Senior French Society; Athletic Association, Sports Club.

ROSE SHELTON

We like her disposition;
To know her is well worth while;
Her motto is, "Pack all your troubles
In your old kit bag and smile, smile, smile!"

French Society.

SUDIE I. SHELTON

We all know her so sweet and fair,
With bright blue eyes and golden hair;
Who has a way of chasing woes,
And sheds sunshine where'er she goes.
So if you chance to know this girl,
Whose aim is high—for so it tends—
You'll surely say she lives a life
That truly moves to gracious ends.

Athletic Association; Spanish Society; Latin Society.

J. STUART SIMMS

This is not Admiral Simms, but Mr. J. Stuart Simms. He is thinking of joining the navy, and we hope he will some day attain the rank of admiral. Going to school is irksome to him, and ofttimes, when sitting at his desk, his thoughts are far away.

Assistant Electrician Radio Club; Athletic Association.

KATHERINE BIDGOOD SLATER

O, student of mark, so worldly wise,
The light in the depths of those big brown eyes,
Tells of manners so modest and ways so charming,
That to mere man are quite alarming.
Such smiles and wiles as she can muster
Will deserve this name: "The Trouble-Buster."

Athletic Association; French Society; Literary Society.

MARION SMETHIE

Just a small brown-eyed, brown-haired girl
Beloved by all the world,
Is our Marion of John Marshall.

French Society.

MARSHALL SMITH

Happy am I, from care I am free;
Why aren't they all contented like me?

Senior French Society.

MARION W. SMITHERS

Behold Marion, mathematician, scientist, soldier, well-known for his common sense reasoning, his wit in the class room, and for reporting rookies. By the way, he was an anonymous contributor to the "Record." Marion says his name will be among those of the great engineers some day; so here are the wishes of the class of '18 that his expectations may come true.

Athletic Association; Radio Club; Glee Club; Cadet Corps; Spanish Society.

SELDEN SPANGLER

"Seldom" is first of all a student. He makes no show of what he knows, but goes about his lessons in a quiet, determined way that has won the esteem of his teachers. Out of school he is a cheerful, obliging companion. The U. S. Naval Academy, where he is to enter, will be lucky in securing such a pupil.

REAUMUR COLEMAN STEARNES

Every one knows "Romeo," but no one seems to be quite sure as to the "Juliet." His best friend at school is—who knows? for Reaumur likes them all, and is liked by all. He is very fond (?) of Latin and tennis, but only his personal friends know the latter fact. Reaumur loves his native suburban soil, and seldom plays elsewhere.

Physics Society; Cadet Corps; Athletic Association.

MARY STITH

Mary is a girl whom we all love. She certainly believes in being seen and heard, and her conversations are a delight to all. She has made many friends at John Marshall, and they all unite to wish her success in all her future undertakings.

HENRY B. SYCLE

Henry, better known as "Jake," hails from the metropolis of Ginter Park. For this reason he is a speed king, a champion of breeze. "Jake" is well liked by his fellow-students and teachers on account of his smiling, obliging, and courteous manner. Above all, "Jake" shines with the fair sex. He also shows up well in all of his classes. When Henry leaves John Marshall, we hope he will rise to the height of success.

Latin Society; Spanish Society; Athletic Association; Tennis Club; Glee Club; Cadet Corps.

JOSEPHINE TALLEY

Here's to the girl with the golden curls,
And the dancing eyes of gray,
When she smiles, the world smiles with her,
For such is her magic sway.

French Society.

HELEN GRAY TAYLOR

A gray-eyed maiden, tall and fair,
With chestnut locks and gracious air,
Our Helen's laughter, very gay,
Is often heard throughout the day.

Helen is the life of many otherwise dark days. Her cheery disposition makes her a general favorite among her schoolmates. May she go through life with the same zeal which has been an inspiration to her fellow-students!

Girls' Literary Society; French Society; Patriotic Club; Athletic Association.

SOPHIE TAYLOR

Sophie is one of the jolliest girls at John Marshall, and has in consequence greatly enlarged her circle of friends during her sojourn here. Her happy, smiling countenance fully expresses her sunny disposition, her friendliness, and sympathy.

ROBERTA TENER

Good luck to Roberta, gentle and fair,
With her soft gray eyes and her brown curly hair!
She has a loving disposition and a temper very mild.
Well, in fact, Roberta is a charming child.

JULIA SAUNDERS THOMAS

Here's to Julia, the favorite of her class, a charming miss of "sweet sixteen," with sparkling eyes and nut brown hair. Always alert for fun and frolic, Julia is never dreamy except at the playing of that "Missouri Waltz," and then—sh! don't break the spell. As a student, fine; as an associate, better; as a friend, the best ever.

Vice-President Athletic Association; Pep Club; President Senior French Society; Girls' Literary Society; Associate Editor of Record; Dramatic Society.

GRACE THOMPSON

Here we see a sunny maiden,
With her soft and golden hair;
We would think naught but sunshine
Shone round her everywhere.
A friend she has been to us,
These four years or more,
And how we loved that fair name, Grace,
Our parting reveals as never before!

French Society; Literary Society.

CLARA TILLER

With her winning ways and merry smile, combined with genuine humor, Clara has won the admiration of her fellow-pupils. Here's wishing her the best of luck as she goes out from old J. M.

Literary Society.

KENNETH TILLER

All hail Kenneth! We know him from the shadows his dainty "digits" cast. But seriously, we couldn't get along without "Kenny," and we hope that his J. M. popularity will always follow him.

Glee Club.

NEVA TOMPKINS

Getting good marks is Neva's special feat; but she also has the knack of making many friends. May she continue this happy faculty throughout life.

ETHELBERT TRAYLOR

Well, folks, here's another;
This one you surely know;
She'll always think about the class,
Wherever she may go.
Here's wishing that when she departs,
And goes upon her way,
That she'll have much success
Forever and a day.

Athletic Association; Literary Society; Patriotic Club.

ELLA TREVETT

Ella, at first glance, is a small, quiet person, with just a hint of seriousness; but upon investigation, we find a person small in size, but with such a big heart that we sometimes wonder if Ella isn't most all heart. Such a studious person we have never seen; even dread Latin never "phazed" her, and for some time back she has been an honor pupil. Here's to Ella; may she be as successful through all pursuits in life.

Athletic Association; Girls' Literary Society; French Society; Sports Club.

J. WELLFORD TREVILLIAN

Unlike Anthony, I come not to bury but to praise Wellford. A general favorite among the boys, it was not surprising that he was elected manager of the basket-ball team. But what we like most is his unfailing "pep" and good humor, for where Wellford hangs his hat there is sure to be a good time. Incidentally, he can dance, eat, make love, and possesses many other accomplishments. We predict a bright future for Wellford, and wish him much luck.

Captain Cadet Corps; Manager Basket-ball Team, '18; Athletic Association.

BERTHA E. TREVETT

To those who know thee not,
No words can paint;
And those who know thee,
Know all words are faint.

BEULAH TUCKER

If the angels kept a recipe book, one would find in turning the pages around about the year 1898 something like this: Take one curly brown head, two laughing blue eyes, two rosy cheeks, one dear smiling mouth; add a good portion of wit and cleverness, a few drops of mischief; dash over all a liberal quantity of lovableness. Stir gently. The result will be both astonishing and gratifying.

President of French Society; Girls' Literary Society; Latin Society; Athletic Association.

WINNIE DAVIS TUCKER

Everybody knows and admires "Little Almond Eyes." Her soft, musical voice and gentle manner have won the affection of all her classmates. We know that everything Winnie undertakes in the future will be crowned with success.

Girls' Literary Society.

J. AUSTIN UMLAUF

Serious of mien, studious of habit, considerate of others, and conscientious in the discharge of every duty, it is to be expected that a boy of this disposition should be attracted by the more serious affairs of life. The Cadet Corps claimed his attention, and to this phase of school life he has given his best.

First Lieutenant Cadet Corps.

VIRGINIA HAZELWOOD VIA

With her charming blue eyes, characteristic blushes, and soft voice, Hazelwood has won a place in the hearts of all her schoolmates. Those who know her well have doubtless noticed her marked preference for brown eyes and her unusual interest in Spanish.

Spanish Society.

EDWARD WALLERSTEIN

That ''dear li'l'' '' boy is the darling of the school. Ever since he donned his ''longies'' (and that hasn't been so very long ago), he has been haunted by various members of the fair sex. With his chubby face, saucy nose, dark complexion, and dimples (where an angel (?) kissed him), coupled with his natural aversion to Latin, he is a worthy representative of the Senior Class.

Radio Club; Latin Society; Athletic Association; Boys' Literary Society; Tennis Club.

ELSA WALLERSTEIN

Now that the inevitable time of parting has come, we who are fortunate enough to enjoy Elsa's friendship realize how priceless is the gift of friendship. With her sunny smile and genial disposition, with her ever readiness to lend a helping hand, she has gathered around her a host of true friends, who will always remember her as one of the bright spots of J. M. May she receive as full amount of happiness as she gives to others.

Senior French Society.

ELSIE MAE WARE

The friend who smiles so deep in your heart,
That neither her ''Hard Luck'' nor ''Fortune'' can part,
Who'd go to the end of the world for you,
Go over the edge and further on, too,
Go right to the limit and ''that's going some,''
Is the only friend to call a chum.

Girls' Literary Society; Senior French Society; School-Notes Editor of Record; Pep Club; Athletic Association.

MILDRED ELIZABETH WARREN

There are in this slender frame wonderful possibilities; we see that especially when she makes those brilliant impromptu platform speeches. We feel sure that when the question of equal suffrage will be again presented to the Virginia Legislature, Mildred will rise to the occasion, and on the spur of the moment make the ''Give-me-liberty-or-give-me-death'' speech for the cause.

Girls' Literary Society; Athletic Association; Dramatic Club.

T. BOYD WASHINGTON

Boyd, better known as "Booker," came to us in 1914, from the clods of Caroline. He is one of the best all-round boys in the Senior Class, being generally at the top in everything he undertakes. Even if he is a countryman, he is a general favorite among the city folks, making friends wherever he goes. Here's the best-o'-luck to him in his college and business career!

President Literary Society; President Spanish Society; Latin Society; Athletic Association.

LEWIS GINTER WATKINS

Around school he is a harmless looking individual with a pleasant face and large glasses. He laughs a good deal, makes funny remarks, and is very sensitive to the touch. When he climbs into his Studebaker, however, he becomes reckless—so they say. He has a host of friends at John Marshall who wish him the greatest success and happiness possible.

Cadet Corps; Athletic Association; Senior French Society; Dramatic Club.

LOUISE WATTS

Here is a prize specimen of the genus lognora. Her preferred habitat is in the midst of a sympathetic audience. Her organs of speech are well developed, but harmless, since they are never used except to amuse and entertain. Therefore, she is highly regarded by those fortunate enough to know her.

Senior French Society.

HARRY LEE WATSON

Harry Lee is an elongated, dashing (?) lieutenant, who has made himself extremely popular with both sexes. It can be said (if we judge by appearances) that he is no enemy of Hoover and his eternal conservation. We hope, Harry, that you will have for each of us that which we have for you—a pleasant thought.

First Lieutenant Cadet Corps.

HELEN WATSON

"I can't be bothered" is what her mien implies,
And she is gay, with sparkling eyes,
The thought of her will cheer us ever,
For we've had jolly good times together.
And so let's give three cheers,
For the past four years
That we've spent with Helen.

MARY STAIR WEAKLEY

A winsome lass with smile so rare,
A mass of light and wavy hair,
And big blue eyes—that's Mary Stair.

Athletic Association; Patriotic Club; Girls' Literary Society.

JOSEPH M. WEINBERG

He is small, but there is certainly a lot to him. His countenance is always cheerful; his enthusiasm and general good humor are contagious. Girls do not attract or bother him. Everyone who knows him likes him; therefore, he has a wide circle of friends because of his popularity among teachers and pupils. We only cease because mere enumerations would seem to depict him a novel hero, and he really is too much alive for that.

Athletic Association; Boys' Literary Society; Senior French Society; Tennis Club.

JOSEPH WEEKS

A tendency to argue, a keen sense of humor, and an ever-ready smile, that's Joe. Just what Joe intends to become is something of a mystery, but his many friends at old John Marshall wish him the best of luck and success whatever vocation he may choose.

Boys' Literary Society; Spanish Society; Glee Club; Athletic Association.

LOTTIE MAE WEST

Those of us who have been fortunate enough to know her can testify to the fact that she is the embodiment of enthusiasm, sunshine, and merriment, with large gray eyes and beautiful curls thrown in for good measure. Here's to Lottie; may she be as successful in dispelling gloom in the future as she has been in making life enjoyable for Marshallites.

Girls' Literary Society; Latin Society; President Sports Club; Senior French Society; Athletic Association.

HELEN G. WILKES

Helen is the girl with great blue eyes and golden hair. She has gained more friends on account of her sweet simple ways than any other girl at John Marshall. All of the Seniors know that when you want a pal who will sympathize with you when you are blue, or laugh with you when you are happy, Helen is the girl to seek. Here's wishing success to the lovable girl who is a "friend in need and a friend indeed."

Pep Club; Girls' Literary Society; Athletic Association; Vice-President Senior French Society; Latin Society.

LOLA WILLIAMS

Lovely and mild is this maiden you see.
Oh! what a world of sweet simplicity
Lurks in her gray eyes; and may her days be
As bright as the smile she gives you and me.

MADELINE LEE WILLIAMS

Bright and witty,
Likewise pretty,
Here's a health to thee:
Always gladness,
Never sadness
May thy lot e'er be.

Latin Society; Spanish Society.

FRED WILMER

If you hear some one out on Eighth street yelling at the top of his voice, you may be certain that it is Fred drilling his company. Fred is very fond of the ladies, and will walk several squares to see a snappy-looking girl. But despite his weakness for the fair sex, Fred is an earnest worker and an Honor Roll pupil. May he always be as successful as he was at school.

Captain Cadet Corps; Athletic Association.

DOROTHY WINFREY

Dorothy is a pretty brown-eyed maiden, whom we all know and love. She is optimistic—very. In fact, she fairly specializes in finding "silver linings." We are all glad for Dorothy that she graduates this year, but what is best is missed most.

Athletic Association.

ANNIE BEECHER WILSON

Of course, you all know Annie; everybody does. She's always smiling, and "a miss is as good as her smile." She is an ideal chum, confidante, and friend—some one you love to have around. We hate to give her up, but it can't be helped; so we send her off with hearts just full of love and good wishes.

President Girls' Literary Society; Spanish Society; Athletic Association; Chairman Pep Club.

WYTHE HARRISON WOOLFOLK

Wythe is one of the most popular boys in John Marshall, both with pupils and teachers. He is a star orator, and once favored a class with song. He is the organizer of the Glee Club and originator of the great lunch counter petition of 1917. His one idea of conservation and economy is, never buy anything if you can borrow it. If you don't believe he spreads joy, ask the ladies.

Glee Club; Athletic Association; Literary Society; Cadet Corps.

CORINNE MURIEL WOOD

Muriel is an excellent pupil, and fond of all her studies, but you'll have to ask her why she's so crazy about history and bookkeeping. Why, she wouldn't miss a class for a month of holidays! We're all glad, for Muriel's sake that she's going to graduate soon, but there'll be mighty big gap here that nobody else can fill.

ARCHER AND CLIFFORD
(The Wooldridge Twins)

Together they come, together they go,
So much alike are they,
That which is the Archer or Clifford one,
Not even a teacher can say.

Their height's the same, their hair is dark,
And both have eyes that are brown;
They look alike, and they dress alike;
They have the same kind of a frown.

They talk alike, and they think alike;
So what can a fellow do
In writing this up, but to say the same thing
About both of these brothers two?

HORACE A. WRIGHT

Horace's sunny disposition, ready wit, magnetic personality, and flaxen poll have made him a favorite both among pupils and teachers. He is a good student, an all-round dancer, a debater of note, an understudy of "Charlie" Chaplin, and general good fellow. In addition, he likes the ladies and they like him—we all do. May his future be as bright as his sunny locks.

Glee Club; Spanish Society; Athletic Association; Cadet Corps; Debating Team.

LOUISE YARBOROUGH

Louise is a firm believer in the old proverb, "Better late than never," and she proves it by coming in every morning a little out of breath promptly at three minutes past 9. If you don't know her, you have missed one of the good things of life, for she is the merriest of companions and the best of pals.

MARGARET YOUNG

When Margaret's teachers tell her she is talkative, she smiles and takes it good-naturedly. Those who have been in her class love the little oral "compositioner," because she reveals her charming personality by her humorous and naïve expressions.

D. WALTON MALLORY

Walton scores high in everything he undertakes, be it pleasure, business or study. However, we hope the second mentioned line of action will be his long suit in future years.

Treasurer of Radio Club; Athletic Association.

JOHN TAYLOR

At the end of his Junior year, John left us to join the navy. However, he received a furlough to complete his education, and it was with unexpected pleasure that we welcomed him back this year. It is not known for certain what John intends doing upon leaving High School, for like a pin, he often seems pointed in one direction while headed in another. But those who know him most intimately confidently predict that Uncle Sam will be paying John Taylor's bills before the summer ends.

In the Court of Old King Cole

OLD KING COLE stretched lazily in his chair of state, and stifled a yawn. The day was hot and sultry, and the jolly old soul was bored. That was very evident.

"My Fiddlers Three, my pipe and bowl!" he called; "bring them hither at once."

And forthwith there entered the Fiddlers Three with the articles necessary for their ruler's comfort.

"The day is tedious," began that honorable personage; "I would not have it so. Hie ye away, and return as quickly as ye may, bearing something with which to while away the time."

More rapidly than it takes time to tell, the three were again in the royal presence.

"What bringest thou?" demanded the king of the first fiddler.

"A book from the land of dreams, an it please your majesty, which—" but he got no further, for Cole interrupted.

"Away with your dreams! A few thousand years ago, perhaps, they had suited, but not so in the matter-of-fact world of to-day. Begone; I will have none of it!"

The result of the second fiddler's errand was no more satisfactory than that of his predecessor, and wearily the king turned to the third.

"Mayhap thou hast been more successful," quoth he; "What hast thou?"

"I bring two books from the land of mortals," was the answer, "a John Marshall Annual of the year '18 and its sequel, a record of the success of the graduates of that year."

"Good," muttered Cole. "Bring and read. First I would hear something of one Sam Bendheim, well known in the Class of '18."

"Herein is what mortal man would call an advertisement," replied the fiddler. "Methinks 'tis but a brief one, for it does but mention the fact that Sam Bendheim is preparing a dictionary, the words of which are of his own coinage."

"Ho! ho!" laughed the portly monarch. "By my faith, that should tickle the ribs of a saint! His language was eloquent e'en when but a boy, but to think that he should write a dictionary!"

"Grace Batkins," continued the reader, "is editor of a magazine not highly popular with the feminine sex of mortals—'Plain Dressing.'"

"Ha!" interrupted the listener, "she was not ever thus. Woman is indeed fickle. But what of Walker Stuart?"

With difficulty the fiddler repressed a smile, and in a melancholy voice, gave the following information:

"Right Reverend Walker Stuart—chief object in life—converting gay young belles into sober, sedate maidens. The victim of his earnest efforts at present is one Hester Bruce. His last effort," remarked the courtier, "was quite successful, for Thelma Hill is as sober a deaconess as one would wish to see."

"Boyd Washington," continued the chronicler, "novelist who taketh his stories from real life. 'Tis whispered that the heroine of his last novel is Bernice Purdie, who, by means of her very much subdued husband, is satisfactorily demonstrating the fact that a woman is the true head of the household."

As the next leaf was turned, a picture dropped out. With unkingly haste the royal hand seized it.

"By the points of my crown!" ejaculated King Cole, " 'tis Elizabeth Wall. And what does she in a Robe of State?" he inquired curiously.

"Know ye not?" came the reply. "Since Germany became the property of the United States, it was necessary to have an American ruler there, and the one appointed was this same Elizabeth Wall."

"My next page," continued the fiddler, "is a theatrical record. Upon this page is recorded the acceptance by Russell Eanes of a most flattering offer from the successor of David Belasco. And here are proofs of Avis Hillsman's popularity as a motion picture star. Bernard Gasser, a graceful dancing master, winning much fame through the renown of his two famous pupils, Esther Davis and Lillian Harris."

"What of Marion Gary?" was the next inquiry of the King.

"It seemeth strange to hear of her in the guise of a foreign missionary," remarked the youngest fiddler, "but 'tis quite true. And while she imparteth religion to the heathen in Africa, Helen Wilkes, ever a close friend, imparteth beauty to the countenance of mortal man—and woman. Yea," he added, in answer to Cole's look of astonishment, "she is the owner of a well known beauty parlor."

"Have not some become famous in public life?" questioned the King. "Methinks I have heard of one Miriam Francis, the head of a political party in her State."

"Aye, 'tis true. And quite as well known is the United States ambassador to England, Frank Melton."

"Two poets have been honored from the Class of '18," remarked the reader: "Frank Manhart, who writeth lyrics, and Beulah Tucker, a writer of vers de libre that none but herself understand. But it is gossiped, in the world below, that two are taking a course in order to be able to understand Poetess Tucker's "high brow" thoughts—Lois Hendrick and Melvin Jones. Great results are expected from these two."

"George Richwine, who gained great fame in the World War as a doctor, hath builded him a hospital in Spain, of which the head nurse is Mamie Crump."

"Stay!" commanded the King as the third fiddler made as if to close the book. "Of him who was so important in the Class of '18, thou hast made no mention. What, I say, what"—and his voice squeaked with excitement—"hath become of Irving Terrill Duke?"

At the mention of this awe-inspiring name, however, the face of the courtier betrayed such great emotion that the King surreptitiously reached for his pocket handkerchief with which to wipe away the tears that trickled down his his nose.

"Alas! your majesty," he made answer," three weeks ago the famous Duke was appointed Ambassador Extraordinary, Minister Plenipotentiary to a newly discovered cannibal island in the Pacific; but—ah, woe is me!—no sooner had the cannibal chief set eyes on the rotund proportions of the representative of the United States than his mouth began to water. And," sobbed the fiddler, "to make a sad story short, Irving Terrill Duke became the chief dish at a banquet given in his own honor!"

At the last words, Old King Cole fell fainting to the floor. As he was borne out by his anxious attendants, he had scarcely the strength to dismiss the court.

In a faint, weak voice, he gasped, "Stand not upon the order of your going, but go at once!" Which they did.

JULIET WOODSON,
Class Prophet for February.

The Lake of a Thousand Mirrors

THEY say there is a land high above the treetops where the sky is a little bluer and the fleecy clouds a little softer than any other spot on earth. There, nestled in the heart of a forest of sweet-scented pines, is found the "Lake of a Thousand Mirrors." The birds sing sweetly; the little waves ripple merrily; and it is called the Land of Content, because, kneeling on its shores, every question one may ask is answered in the clear blue waters of the lake. I will tell you how I found it so that you, too, may find it and carry it with you always.

I had been serving as private secretary to General John Core on the French border for nearly three years, when one night we were all sitting around the campfire talking of our school days. I felt myself slipping, slipping away, until all at once I looked down at my feet, and there lay the "Lake of a Thousand Mirrors."

"Lake!" I cried, "tell me what my friends of old John Marshall are doing!"

The little waves began to form into mirrors, reflecting many colored scenes. The first that was clear to me was a scene "Somewhere in Washington." I could almost hear the shouts of "Hooray for the President!" and when I looked to see who it was, lo! there stood Julia Thomas, the first woman President of the U. S. A. By her side stood Elsie Ware, who, they said, was married and lived in Washington. Then I recalled all those letters she used to receive while at High School with a certain postmark, and the whole thing seemed explained.

The mirror by its side was reflecting war scenes. I saw Captain Wellford Trevillian leading an onrushing army in a great attack on the Germans. Immediately following him was Tyler Haynes, the most renowned surgeon of his day, and Jack Ribble, a very famous doctor, caring for the dying and wounded under the old Red, White and Blue. An ambulance came rumbling over the fields at the surgeon's call, and I recognized Annie Wilson at the wheel, wearing huge goggles and an auto cap, while at her side sat Helen Simpson, a dainty little Red Cross nurse. There came a faint, whirring noise in the air, and as we all looked up we saw an airplane pass over our heads, driven by Maude Hooker, the most valuable and daring of all Captain Trevillian's scouts. I felt proud, indeed, of our Class of '18.

In another mirror there was revealed a huge studio in New York, arranged like an Egyptian Garden. I realized that the artist, no other than Dorothy McCaw, was one of those "high brow" portrait painters, and that she was painting Henrietta Ruffin, a little New York matron.

Quickly another mirror began to reflect. This time I recognized dear old T. A. Miller's on a busy Saturday afternoon. In walked Marion Carmichael and Mary Bruce Doss, two very popular buds of the season, and ordered "Chocolate milk, please," from the soda clerk, in whom I recognized Mary Maynard. At last, she had gained her oft-spoken desire to be able to give as much whipped cream as a chocolate milk deserved!

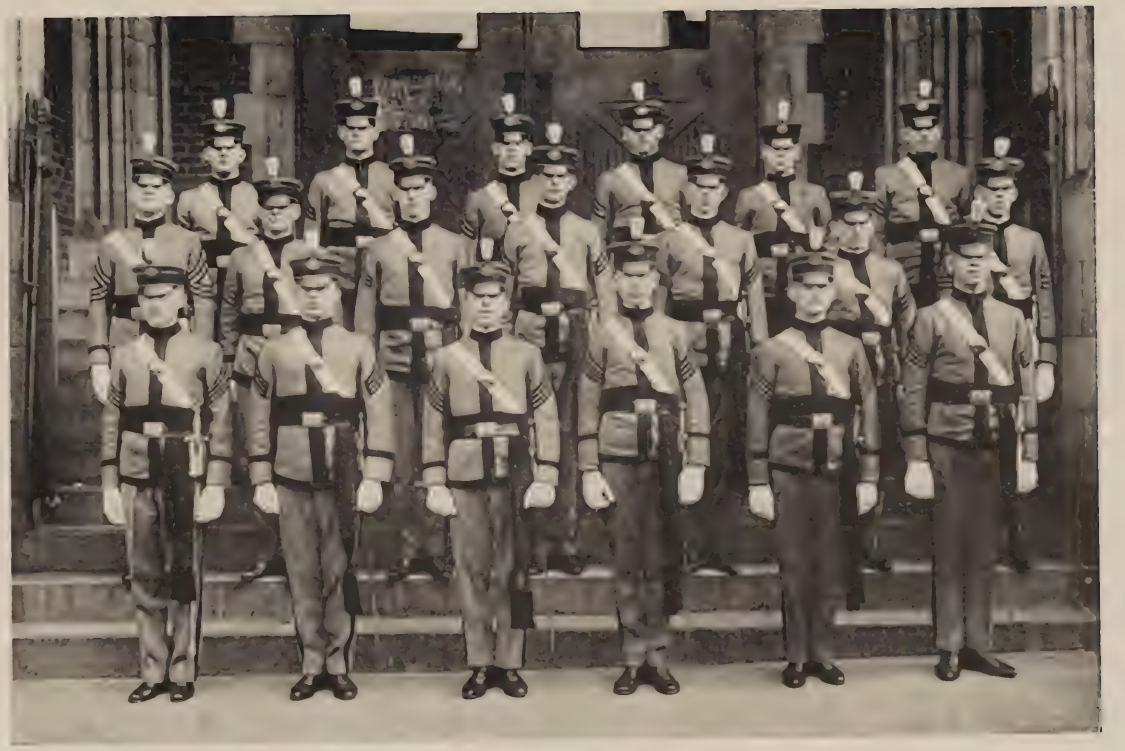
In another mirror I recognized a moving picture theater that was once the "Colonial," but now the "Noyes Wilson," named after a very prominent banker. The billboards announced that Ruth Trevillian, the prettiest star of filmdom, would appear in a picture written by Miss Juliet Woodson, the playwright of the year, and presented by George Parrish, who headed the largest "movie" corporation in New York. At the box office I saw Frances Jordan selling tickets as fast as her fingers could handle them. How often had I heard Frances wish that she could boss something for just a little while! Well, all things come to him who waits! In the audience, I saw Bland Pamplin still trying to break hearts. Would Bland never tire of youthful habits?

And so, on and on, the little mirrors told me of the success of my classmates, but surely you know what the "Lake of a Thousand Mirrors" is by now. It is memory, and it is to be hoped that each of you will take just such a lake away with you, so that you will always keep fresh in your minds the dear ones of the Class of 1918.

ELIZABETH WALL,
Class Prophet for June.

CALIAS

Captain Marshall G. Munce



Commissioned Officers

W. C. SPAIN
First Lieutenant Adjutant

W. T. HAYNES
Second Lieutenant Quartermaster

R. STEARNES
Sergeant Major

MISS EDITH REAMS
SPONSOR

Staff

W. C. Spain ..... First Lieutenant Adjutant
W. T. Haynes ..... Second Lieutenant Quartermaster
R. Stearnes ..... Sergeant Major
R. Martin, J. Ribble ..... Color Sergeants

Battalion Organization

M. G. MUNCE.....Captain and Commandant

STAFF

SPAIN, C.....First Lieutenant Adjutant
HAYNES, T.....Second Lieutenant Quartermaster
STEARNES, R. .....Sergeant Major
RIBBLE, J. }
MARTIN, R. } .....Color Sergeants

"A" Co.	"B" Co.	"C" Co.	"D" Co.	"E" Co.	"F" Co.
		CAPTAINS
Core, J.[2]	Barker, W.[3]	Trevillian, W.[5]	Quarles, C.[6]	Wilmer, F.[4]	Brown, E.[1]
		FIRST LIEUTENANTS
Watson, H. L.[4]	Lynch, P.[2]	Eppes, E.[3]	Umlauf, A.[5]	Stuart, W.[6]	Bradley, W.[1]
		SECOND LIEUTENANTS
Grant, R.[2]	Pierce, C.[1]	Joseph, R.[6]	Thomas, E.[4]	Boyd, W.[7]	Stoltz, R.[5]
Smith, E.[3]
		FIRST SERGEANTS
Whitlock, E.[1]	Anderson, H.[2]	Walke, W.[6]	Jones, P.[4]	Bowles, W.[5]	Powell, H.[3]
		SERGEANTS
Campodonica, J.[23]	Carpenter, D.[16]	Brady, J.[2]	Bendheim, S.[7]	Parker, H.[18]	Bird, H.[14]
Cottrell, L.[11]	Fulton, K.[22]	Beckwith, W.[12]	Cooper, E.[4]	Penick, G.[13]	Brooks, R.[15]
Mattern, L.[4]	Kohler, K.[3]	Calisch, E.[21]	Haskins, C.[20]	Smith, A.[6]	Clarke, J.[24]
Ruffin, C.[19]	Parrish, G.[1]	Rose, H.[12]	Henson, W.[10]	Smithers, M.[17]	King, C. T.[8]
		CORPORALS
Dover, R.[34]	Chandler, A.[10]	Bowen, R.[9]	Bailey, C.[12]	Brown, M.[17]	Crutchfield, N.[32]
Guthrie, J.[6]	Dunford, C.[22]	Clarke, A. C.[2]	Garlick, W.[4]	Downs, M.[3]	Hord, J.[9]
Holland, J.[24]	Pierce, E.[33]	Lowry, W.[33]	Hooper, E.[23]	Frazer, M.[19]	Mitchell, J.[20]
Rankin, G.[15]	Reid, G.[5]	Meyer, M.[18]	Luck, W.[31]	Ingram, W.[35]	Nichols, A.[16]
Russell, P.[37]	Sherry, F.[36]	Shoemaker, J.[29]	Nelson, N.[28]	Smoot, E.[1]	Taylor, W. B.[39]
Todd, G.[14]	Spangler, S.[25]	Smith, P.[11]	Wells, W.[7]	Todd, R.[26]	Tucker, K.[13]
			Wood, W.[21]

DRUM CORPS

COOPER, E.....Drum Major
FRANKLIN, E.
GOODLIFFE, W. } ..... Corporals
SCHWARZCHILD, H.

The Battalion

IF there was ever any doubt as to whether the Military System at John Marshall High School would be a permanent success, this doubt has been forever removed, for with this, the third year of the Cadet Corps, the system has become more thoroughly grounded than ever before, and I think I may safely say that it is a permanent thing.

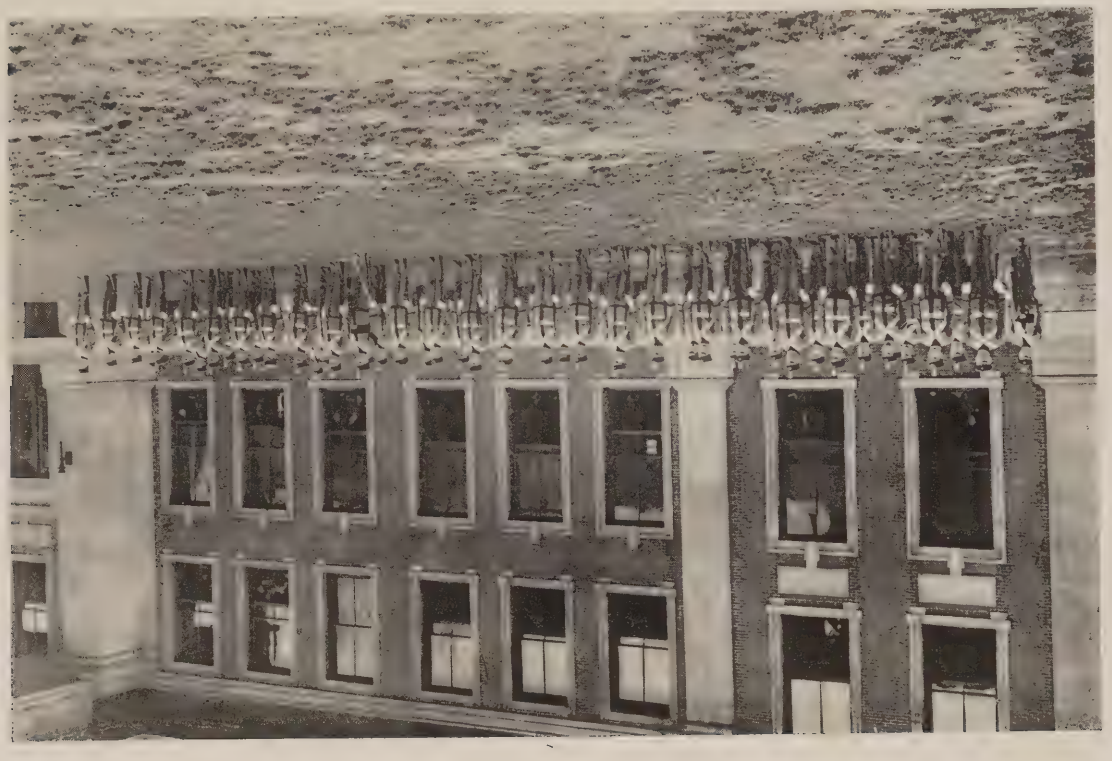
Starting September, 1917, the Wyoming Plan of Military Training was put into effect which provides for two hours per week special instruction and three hours per week drill, During the fall these two hours per week were devoted to the study of the Infantry Drill Regulations, during the winter to the study of the United States Army Signal Book, and during the spring to the study of the Small Arms Firing Manual. This system has worked well. The cadets have taken quite a good bit of interests in the subjects, and have attained very good results.

From two hundred and fifty last year, the Battalion enrollment this year jumped to four hundred. Instead of four companies there are at present six, two (''A'' and ''B'') drilling before school, and the remainder drilling during school hours, one for each period except the first. The increased number of companies, of course, called for additional officers, but these were readily found among the ranks of the other companies, and rapidly whipped into shape.

Battalion Drill or Parade in Full Dress has been held regularly on Wednesday afternoons, and a fair degree of proficiency obtained in this direction. But this is not the only time that the Cadets have donned their full dress, and thereby given others a treat. Twice have they held Cadet Balls, once in the fall and once in the spring, both of which occasions were thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Overcoats for the Cadets remain a dream of the future. However, we are still hoping that some day this dream may be realized, for as the system advances step by step, that is bound to come sooner or later. And is the Military System at John Marshall advancing? Well, rather. The above are only the strides made in one year and John Marshall was never known to slacken its pace.

CAPT. M. G. MUNCE.



Company "A"

OFFICERS

J. T. Core.....Captain
H. L. Watson.....First Lieutenant
R. Grant.....Second Lieutenant
E. A. Smith.....Second Lieutenant
E. Whitlock.....First Sergeant

SERGEANTS

Mattern, L. Cottrell, L. Ruffin, C. Campodonica, J.

CORPORALS

Holland, J. Russell, P. Rankin, G. Guthrie, J. Todd, G. Dover, R.

PRIVATES

Brydon, G.
Bratman, J.
Briggs, A.
Bartol, J.
Bland, N.
Bradley, L.
Carson, A.
Chustain, D.
Cobb, R.
Cottrell, D.
Cottrell, J.
Cottrell, W.
Ellyson, W.
Ford, C.
Gayle, S.
Gilbert, E.
Goode, R.
Gordon, B.
Harwell, M.
Held, E.
Huff, C.
Hutchinson, H.
Johnson, S.
King, J.
McCarroll, R.
McDowell, W.
Milliner, M.
Pearson, R.
Perry, J.
Pettway, R.
Roden, J. C.
Rosenthal, M.
Ryder, E. B.
Ryland, H.
Selvage, D.
Stern, J. G.
Sweeney, T. M.
Sydnor, G.
Tompkins, S.
Watkins, S.
Watkins, T.
Wright, H. A.

MISS MARY MAYNARD
SPONSOR

Company "B"

OFFICERS

W. Barker .....Captain
P. Lynch .....First Lieutenant
C. Pierce .....Second Lieutenant
H. Anderson.....First Sergeant

SERGEANTS

Parrish, G Kohler, J. Fulton, K. Carpenter, D.

CORPORALS

Sherry, F. Chandler, A. Reid, G. Spangler, S. Pierce, E. Dunford, C.

PRIVATES

Ball, L.
Barnes
Beadles
Blake, J.
Blakey
Briggs, C.
Briggs, S.
Burton, J.
Cheatam, R.
Cohen, L.
Cosby, R.
Drake
Ewing, H.
Evans, A.
Fletcher, F.
Ford, R.
Harrelson, H.
Hedley, O.
Homier, W.
Jacobs, L.
Judd, W.
Liesfield
Lipscomb
Little, P.
Luck, E.
Meyer, L.
Michael Page, N.
Passamaneck
Pierce, G.
Richwine, M.
Roden, L.
Rosenberg, A.
Rucker, A.
Rylan, B.
Salamonsky
Sale, G.
Smith, C.
Sycle, H.
Todd, J.
Vitsky, M.
Warthen
Weinstein, L.
Will, W.
Yarborough
Andrews, A.
Graves, C.
Lutz.

MISS ELOISE M. M'EWEN
SPONSOR

Company "C"

OFFICERS

J. W. Trevillian.....Captain
E. Eppes.....First Lieutenant
R. E. Joseph.....Second Lieutenant
W. Walke.....First Sergeant

SERGEANTS

Brady, J. — Beckwith, H.
Rose, H. — Calisch, E.

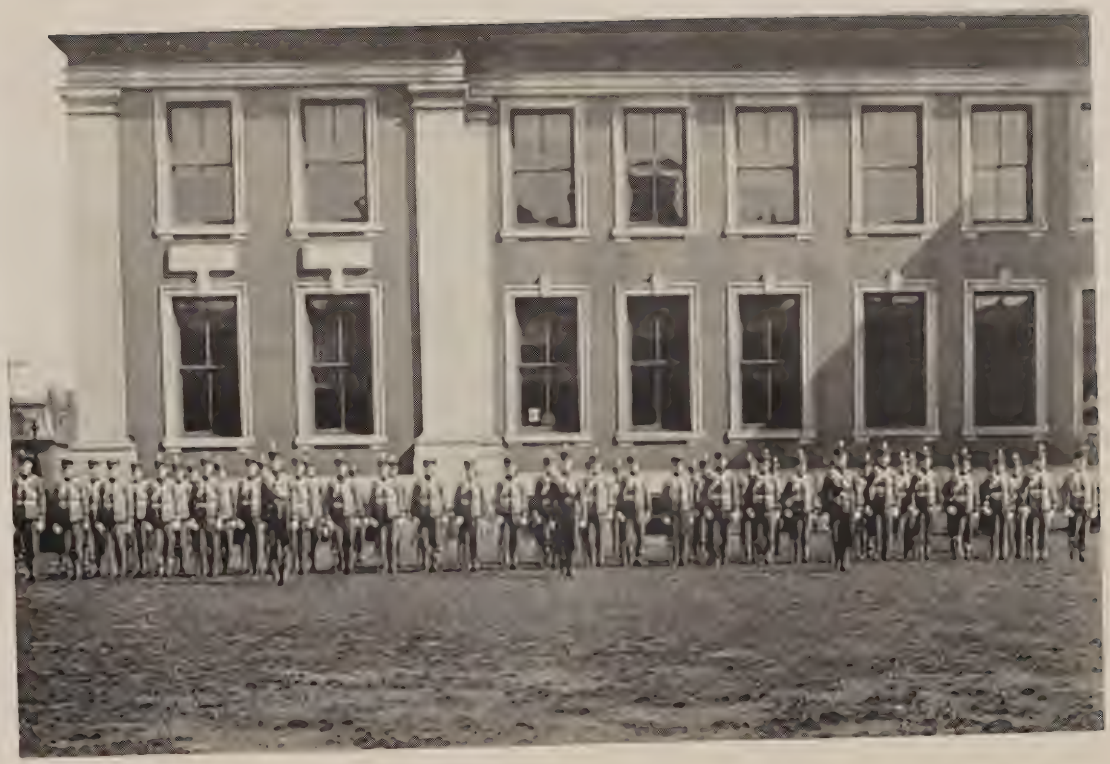
CORPORALS

Bowen, R. — Clark, A. C.
Meyer, H.
Smith, A. P. — Lowry

PRIVATES

Apperson, N. J.
Armstrong, R.
Blank, F.
Blankinship, R.
Breitstein, M.
Bullington, F.
Bullington, H.
Clark, A. B.
Constine, D.
Cowardin, R.
Dake, M.
Davis, H.
Dietz, A.
Dogget, D.
Dunford, H.
Ellet, O.
Eubank, O.
Faudree, H.
Fields, F.
Franklin, A.
Franklin, E.
Goddin, J.
Green, G.
Gresham, G.
Harris, J.
Keck, T.
Lee, R.
Levy, A.
Marchant, J.
McCleary, W.
McGraham, H.
Neuroh, C.
O'Connor, K.
Pace, E.
Patterson, H.
Ralston, H.
Robertson, I.
Robins, H.
Schwarzschild, H.
Self, O.
Shafto, G.
Sharove, G.
Sheppard, C.
Shoemaker, J.
Steven, G.
Sturman, B.
Taylor, W .H.
Todd, J. M.
Tyson, B. F.
Underhill, W.
Weinberg, K.
White, W.
Whitehurst, L.
Williams, L.
Wilkinson, W. G.

MISS RUTH C. TREVILLIAN
SPONSOR



Company "D"

OFFICERS

C. W. Quarles.....Captain
A. Umlauf.....First Lieutenant
E. Thomas.....Second Lieutenant
P. Jones.....First Sergeant

SERGEANTS

Bendheim, S.
Cooper, E.
Haskins
Henson, C.

CORPORALS

Bailey, H.
Garlick, C.
Hooper, E.
Luck, W.
Wood, W.
Nelson, N.
Wills

PRIVATES

Allbright, J.
Bentley, W.
Berry, C.
Bryson, E. H.
Brosnaham, J.
Bowman, C.
Branden, H.
Christian, T. C.
Carter, M. A.
Colona, R.
Clary, W.
Corey, H. S.
Dudley, H. J.
Dunn, A. E.
Eldridge, E.
Folkes, J.
Flippin, H. B.
Fleet, R.
Figner, E.
Gibble, K.
Glenn, G.
Garritt, T. C.
Gibson, F. N.
Gooch, W.
Hubbard, W. A.
Hobson, R.
Hancock, H. T.
Jenkins, R.
Johns, W. T.
Kocen, L.
King, K.
Lynn, F. M.
Lecky, W. R.
Landes, R.
Lee, D.
Milson, C. L.
Massie, W.
Nuckols, R. W.
Parrish, B. S.
Pomfrey, E. B.
Pollard, C.
Richardson, G.
Rothschild, T.
Smethie, W.
Seldon, S. W.
Seaman, W.
Trevett, E.
Vranian, J.
Watkins, J.
Whitlock, H.
Wilkinson, M.
White, G. C.
Yeater, S.
Zincone, N.

MISS LOUISE MILLS
SPONSOR

Company "E"

OFFICERS

F. Wilmer.....Captain
W. D. Stuart.....First Lieutenant
W. Boyd.....Second Lieutenant
W. Bowles.....First Sergeant

SERGEANTS

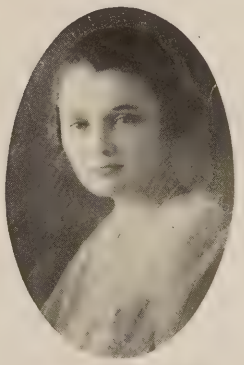
Parker, H. — Penick, G.
Smith, A. — Smithers, M.

CORPORALS

Brown, M. — Frazer, M. — Smoot, E.
Downs, M. — Ingram, W. — Todd, R.

PRIVATES

Adams, L.
Alley, W.
Allsbrook, L.
Ancell, E.
Bradshaw, B.
Burress, C.
Burton, S.
Camp, T.
Crenshaw, W.
Dabney, J.
Dowden, J.
Edwards, C.
Eubank, R.
Fink, J.
Fleet, C.
Green, T.
Haines, W.
Hess, A.
Herman, H.
Hundley, W.
Hunter, E.
Johnson, E.
Jones, B.
Kirkpatrick, J.
Lassiter, G.
Lovenstein, M.
Martin, H.
Meyer, X.
Mitteldorfer, M.
Morrison, S.
Mulford, H.
Murphy, R.
Picchi, R.
Pitt, H.
Quarles, A.
Query, R.
Reed, J.
Ross, A.
Salle, J.
Sanders, L.
Selvage, J.
Stein, M.
Trevvett, S.
Well, B.
White, J.
Whitfield, J.
Winfrey, H.
Will, W.
Wood, L.



MISS AVIS HILLSMAN
SPONSOR

Company "F"

OFFICERS

E. Brown.....Captain
W. Bradley.....First Lieutenant
R. Stoltz.....Second Lieutenant
H. Powell.....First Sergeant

SERGEANTS

Bird, H
Brooks, R.
Clarke, J.
King, C.

CORPORALS

Crutchfield, N.
Goodliffe, W.
Hord, J.
Nichols, A.
Tucker, K.
M'tchell, E.
Taylor, W.

PRIVATES

Berlinghoff, H.
Brereton, J.
Beck, C.
Burnette, A.
Bethel, R.
Chandler, A.
Crutchfield, H.
Carter, J.
Cohen, B.
Carson, M.
Clarke, G.
Daffron, R.
Evans, W.
Flourney, S.
Fletcher, C.
Florence, R.
Gunn, F.
Gunn, A.
Gunn, B.
Hobson, C.
Hopkins, W.
Hopkins, G.
Johnson, W.
Johnson, R.
Kin, S.
Kersey, A.
Lambeth, P.
Law, R.
Lloyd, A.
McGee, A.
Morton, W.
Newell, E.
Noble, W.
Osergren, F.
Pierce, L.
Mitchell, R.
Raedy, C.
Palmer, W.
Surneford, H.
Simson, M.
Simpson, J.
Starke, J.
Spivey, L.
Sage, A.
Pollard, G.
Reams, C.
Timberlake, K.
Wright, W.
Wodall, E.
Wodall, R.
Woodson, W.
Warren, N.
Wilkins, J.

MISS NELIE PHILLIPS
SPONSOR

A Dictionary of the Senior Class

(With apology to Webster and sympathy for Worcester.)

Barker, Willard:

Another reason the side show fakirs are called "barkers."

Batkins, Grace:

Everybody's friend. Fond of fruit, especially the "date."

Brown, Earle:

A real captain, full of importance and laziness. Great admirer of the dark deeds of William S. Hart and other villains.

Core, John:

A dignified bunch of muscles, unable to split wood or sift ashes. The original "Johnny on the spot" in J. M. athletics.

Duke, Irving:

Fatty Arbuckle's only rival. The greatest enemy of Hoover and Conservation.

Eanes, Russell:

A great singer—when he isn't singing. A never present help in time of trouble. (Ask the Annual staff.)

Goode, Rex:

A mechanical contrivance that dances to music. Guaranteed to step on the smallest foot.

Gorman, Richard:

Advertising agent for the makers of fancy hosiery.

Harris, James:

Methuselah's playmate -judging from his jokes in The Record.

Harris, Lillian:

The usual female weakness—gossip and gobble.

Haynes, Tyler:

The quartermaster who helps the commandant loaf.

Hill, Thelma:

Fun, fuss, foolishness—anything that isn't gloomy.

Hillsman, Avis:

Thought to be the composer of that popular rag, "Queen of the Movies."

Joseph, Robert:

A lieutenant in rank, a general in importance. Can work more and accomplish less than a janitor.

Lawrence, Henry:

The class "Joker." Has wonderful talent on a bass drum.

Lloyd, Stacy:

Where the Kaiser got his idea of a "gas" attack. Debates every hour, free of charge.

Pamplin, Bland:

Styles from Paris—Illinois. Sometimes called "Gold E., Jr."

Ribble, John:

Scholars' amusement, teachers' pest. Can do anything but study.

Rudd, A. B.:

Another "o' them youthful prodigies." Similar exhibitions have gained great wealth for dime museums.

Simms, Stuart:

A loud tie and a soft brain.

Simpson, Helen:

A miss whose brilliancy is greater than that of the sun, or the polish on Mr. Phipp's shoes.

Scruggs, Georgie:

A young lady with the mistaken impression that teaching is "simply grand."

Stuart, Walker:

A creature with a 45 chest and a 15 brain. Possesses great quantities of push and steam, hence the name "Tugboat."

Tiller, Kenneth:

Not worth investigating; therefore, no satisfactory definition can be given.

Thomas, Julia:

A leader in studies, patriotic societies, and other frivolties.

Wall, Elizabeth:

One who has the hopeless task of telling what's going to happen to the Seniors.

Woolfolk, Wythe:

The missing link—proof of Darwin's Theory of Evolution.

Wright, Horace:

One who studies "now and then"—mostly "then."

Pep Club

Colors: Red and White.

Vegetable: Red Pepper.

"Oh, we are jolly good fellows
That, no one can deny."

OUR life has been short but very full, and one that we shall always remember. We were organized in October, 1917, with Annie Wilson as our leader, Elsie Ware our writer, and Miss Mary Williams our sponsor. Our year has been marked by many happenings. Among these are the numerous football games that we attended ensemble, the recesses spent in playing ring games, and the French Carnival. Don't you all remember the Christmas tree? The Peps shone as bright lights then. Mrs. Santa Claus was one of our number, and most of the committee was made up of "Pepites." Indeed, in practically every important happening at John Marshall during this year, the Pep Club, in spite of its youth, has taken a prominent part. Among our numbers are presidents of societies, secretaries, class representatives, and all of them are enthusiastic and loyal members of the Class of 1918.

We are thirteen in number, a lucky and happy group:

Annie B. Wilson.
"In her experience all her friends relied;
Heaven was her help, and nature was her guide."

Elsie M. Ware.
"A true friend is forever a friend."

Martha W. Davis.
" 'Tis what I love determines how I love."

Marion Gary.
"Bright are her eyes and as black and burning as a coal."

Thelma Hill.
" 'Tis not in mortals to command success,
But we'll do more, Sempronius;
We'll deserve it."

Maude L. Hooker.
"Variety's the very spice of life,
That gives it all its flavor."

Carolyn V. McKee.
"Her voice was ever soft, gentle, and low—
An excellent thing in woman."

Helen L. Simpson.
"When she had passed, it seemed like the ceasing of exquisite music."

Julia S. Thomas.

"But me no buts."

Elizabeth Wall.

"On with the dance! Let joy be unconfined;
No sleep till morn, when youth and pleasure meet."

Helen Wilkes.

"Thinking is but an idle waste of thought."

Juliet Woodson.

"The more we study, we the more discover our ignorance."

Miss Mary Williams.

"Although the last, not least."

Although many of us graduated in February, the fact that all of us desired more learning made a separation unnecessary. So all through the year we have stood together, working and playing, trying to keep our "Patriotic Pledge" which we made early in the year.

To the question

"Should auld acquaintance be forgot,
And never brought to mind?
Should auld acquaintance be forgot,
And days of o' lang syne?"

we answer, NO.

Therefore, we, the members of the Pep Club of John Marshall High School, City of Richmond, County of Henrico, and State of Virginia, do hereby make, publish, and declare this, our last will and testament, in the manner following:

We hereby give, devise and bequeath—

Item 1. To Elizabeth Chesterman and three judges that shall be chosen at will, the name, colors, vegetable, enthusiasm, and aim of the Pep Club.

Item 2. To the John Marshall Record: (1) Our everlasting good will for the success of the future numbers; (2) our subscriptions for the year 1918-19.

Item 3. To the Class of 1919: Our class spirit and school spirit, to be distributed freely among all concerned.

Item 4. To Mr. J. C. Harwood: Our admiration and especial devotion.

Item 5. To Miss Mary Williams: OUR LOVE.

In witness, whereof, we have hereunto subscribed and affixed our seal at Richmond, Virginia, this twenty-first day of May, 1918.

THE PEP CLUB,

per Julia S. Thomas,

Attorney.

1918 Class Calendar

Sept. 15—Asylum opens. Old inmates welcomed back. All new comers received with open arms.

Sept. 20—Edward Wallerstein dons his first long trousers.

Oct. 2—Romantic scene—Gladys and Tuggy on the stair.

Oct. 9—"Pep" Club organized with much pomp and ceremony. (?)

Oct. 22—Willie Clark missed his Latin.

Oct. 25—Great discussion in class meeting over the Annual, but the patriotism of a loyal few prevailed and a simple Class Book was adopted in place of the usual expensive Annual.

Nov. 3—Some husky brute at S. M. A. hurt our little Tuggy. Ain't men awful?

Nov. 10.—Martha Davis rivals Ichabod Crane in her great enthusiasm for ring games.

Nov. 16—French Carnival—nuff sed!

Nov. 24—Juliet Woodson was ree-e-al naughty in class.

Dec. 2—Sam Bendheim puts on tortoise shells to make him look more distinguished in his responsible position.

Dec. 11—Mrs. Marrin changed her Bill of Fare.

Dec. 17—Boyd Washington asked ———— to accompany him to the Literary Society dance.

Dec. 21—The Seniors' Christmas Tree! Oh, the old scores——, but ask the teachers.

Jan. 2—Henrietta Ruffin seems to have a failing for V. P. I. jewelry.

Jan. 14—Miss Dew got noisy and dropped a book. Horrors!

Feb. 5—Mr. Garfield orders a week holiday. Bless Old King Coal!

Feb. 11—Pastime invented for all Hoboes at J. M. They call it a Glee Club.

Feb. 16—Stacy Lloyd didn't talk more than five minutes on his oral composition. (?)

Feb. 20—Senor Cebollero was seen to smile!!

Feb. 27—Marion Carmichael went to Camp Lee.

Feb. 28—"Jo" Harrison brought just (?) three sandwiches to school!

March 12—M. Parisi succumbs to the divine odor of "Ess Oriza." (It's perfume, folks.)

March 15—Big drive for War Savings Stamps begins.

March 22—Mr. Harwood announces final results of W. S. S. campaign. $20,405!

March 25—Basket ball letters received. Wellford and Tuggy vied with each other for Miss V. V.'s "Grammar Medal."

March 28—Tyler Haynes asked Julia Thomas if her sock was a sweater.

April 1—Maude Hooker was in an amiable mood all day!

April 1. .—Thelma Hill attended all her classes. You don't believe it, do you, Mr. Wall?

April 15—Irving Duke working in the garden to reduce his avoirdupois.

April 18—Great migration to V. P. I.

May 1—Baseball season in full swing, along with spring fever.

May 25—Much excitement! Annuals expected.

June 1—Goodbye, joy! Farewell, happiness! Our doom approaches!

June 10-14—Graduation week.

June 17—Much sheepskin! "Ain't it a grand and glorious feeling?"

MARTHA DAVIS.
THELMA HILL.

ATHLETICS

Football

M. G. Munce ..... Coach
Russell Eanes ..... Manager
George Riggs ..... Captain
J. Todd ..... Right End
Quarles ..... Right Tackle
Huff ..... Right Guard
Sands ..... Center
McFall ..... Left Guard
Robins, Smith ..... Left Tackle
Haile, Kappes ..... Left End
Northern ..... Quarter-Back
Core, Jones ..... Left Half-Back
Watkins, R. Todd, McCarthy ..... Full Back
Stuart ..... Right Half-Back

John Marshall started the season with only six veterans in the line-up, but many husky recruits responded to the call of the White and Blue. We consider ourselves fortunate in having secured the services of such an able coach as Captain Munce, a former V. M. I. star.

Men had to be developed to fill the vacant positions, and those who were picked from the green material were fully worthy to uphold the best traditions of former John Marshall teams. Coach Munce drove the men hard every day, and rapidly whipped them into shape. Captain Riggs sustained an injury to his foot, which kept him from taking an active part in the games for the whole season. Besides this and several minor injuries, however, this was the only serious blow to the team.

The season started in a blaze of glory, Randolph Macon College second team going down before the vigorous onslaught of the White and Blue to the tune of 27 to 0. Overconfidence proved our undoing, for when we traveled to Woodberry Forest we were beaten 20 to 6. This defeat served to instill a grim determination to win, and, full of "pep" and fight, we laid low Blackstone Military Academy by the score of 14 to 6. In the next game, we were completely outclassed by the far heavier Staunton Military Academy team, being overwhelmed by a large score. Failure to kick an easy goal gave Roanoke a hard fought victory over us. Some of our best men were out of this game, the team being badly crippled in the S. M. A. game. Benedictine fell victim to John Marshall 14 to 0. Fork Union Military Academy won from us 10 to 7, a field goal in the last few minutes of play deciding the contest.

Eliminating the large score run up by Staunton, we have 80 points to our credit, to 54 of our opponents. The season this year was featured by the high-class teams we played, practically every one of which was of our class. The team was one of the "gamest" ever turned out at High School, and it is to be congratulated on the excellent brand of ball it played.

Basketball

John Marshall basketball team began the season with only one veteran in the line-up, this being Stuart, a substitute of the preceding year. Coach Jones put forth his best efforts on the green material that responded to his call, and succeeded in turning out a team that gave an excellent account of itself throughout the year. Manager Trevillian booked games with some of the principal prep-school teams in the State, and managed the team with great ability. "Tuggy" Stuart put up wonderful offensive and defensive work at left guard, and made the team an able captain. "Mike" Marrin, the youngest player on the quint, "Doc" Harris, a superb center, "Pat" Carroll, our stellar goal shooter, and "Trashy" Jones, an excellent forward, completed and well rounded out the team.

Our first game resulted in a victory over Magill's Catholic Union by the score of 22 to 12, defeating them in a return engagement of 17 to 8. The "Y" second team was triumphed over 35 to 15. Coach Jones, Trevillian, and eight players then journeyed to Petersburg to play the "Goobers." This was the first time that John Marshall and Petersburg had ever met in basketball, the latter being defeated 39 to 9. Salem High School arrived in Richmond on a sweeping trip, inflicting on us the only defeat of the season. In spite of a 44 to 17 defeat, the game was the fastest of the season. Portsmouth High was the next victim, being laid low on Feb. 16 by the score of 38 to 12, and on Feb. 22, 34 to 21. These games enabled us to wrest the Tidewater State Championship from Portsmouth.

Out of the seven games played we lost only one, and succeeded in rolling up 202 points to our opponents 121. This year's basketball quint was the youngest team ever turned out at John Marshall in any branch of athletics, and we can justly feel proud of the excellent record made for the season.

Baseball

THE TEAM

Todd, Clark	Catchers
Harrelson, Burton, Spain, Robins	Pitchers
Stuart (Captain)	Short Stop
Riggs	First Base
Kohler	Second Base
Patterson	Third Base
Carroll	Left Field
Ashbrook	Center Field
Turner	Right Field
Hicks	Sub. Infielder

The Class Book goes to press too early to make an accurate account of this season's play, yet from a close study of each player's merits we have taken the liberty to pick the above team that seems the logical one to represent John Marshall this year on the diamond.

Some trouble was at first found in choosing a coach, but fortunately for us, Mr. Spear was willing to take charge. About sixty men responded to the call and were soon put to hard practice. The squad was divided into two or three teams, which held practice games with each other every day at Byrd Park. Though but two letter men are back this year, the material for a winning team seems to be on hand, and it is our prediction that Coach Spear and Captain Stuart will turn out a team that will easily uphold the standards of John Marshall teams.

Soccer

Soccer, a comparatively new sport at John Marshall, was severely handicapped by the loss of Coach Durham, who entered the army. A number of the boys, too, followed the colors. However, with the excellent coaching of Mr. Walls, the team went triumphantly through the season, sustaining only one defeat, this by an all-star team composed of men of a good many years' experience. We entered the Richmond Association Football League, and there defeated every team pitted against us. Our team became a machine capable of defeating any High School team in the eastern part of Virginia, but unfortunately enough funds were not available to enable it to journey to outside fields.

Considering the number of applicants for positions, Mr. Walls deserves great credit for the team he put into the field. Soccer is a sport that is destined to attain more popularity in the future, and any team will be lucky in securing Mr. Walls as a coach.

Faculty
John Marshall High School
1918

Mr. James C. Harwood.....Principal
Mr. J. Taylor Robinson.....Assistant Principal
Miss Alice G. Welsh.....Secretary
Miss Josephine Ware.....Assistant Secretary
Miss Mary S. Dew.....Librarian
Miss Miriam Tyler.....Assistant Librarian

ENGLISH
Miss Ray Van Vort

Miss Ethel V. Bass
Miss Eva H. Branch
Miss Jeannette Chapman
Mrs. Kenley J. Clark
Miss Anne Catherine Cross
Miss Lucy C. Denny
Miss Myrtle A. Eubank
Miss Angelina Gregory
Miss Althea Hunt
Miss Florence Ingram
Miss Nannie Sydnor
Miss Bessie Taylor
Mrs. James Wallace
Miss Charlotte K. Wheeler

HISTORY
Mr. T. J. Stubbs, Jr.

Miss Eliza M. Baker
Mr. D. W. Deirerhoi
Miss Sadie Engelberg
Mr. G. J. Lux
Mrs. Robert Miles
Miss M. Virginia Sydnor

MATHEMATICS
Mr. J. Taylor Robinson

Miss Maie L. Auerbach
Miss Mary F. Barnes
Miss Camilla Dickerson
Miss Mary A. Eubank
Mr. C. W. Givens
Miss Carrie Mason
Miss Nora C. Phillips
Miss Virginia R. Robertson
Miss Mary C. Shine
Mrs. C. R. Wilcox
Miss Ruth Wilson

LATIN
Mr. G. W. Morris

Miss Carrie Clark
Mr. W. M. Phipps
Miss Harriet Smith
Mr. Clyde Webster
Miss Louise Weisiger
Miss Mary Williams

FRENCH
Miss Josephine Holt

Mr. Francis Baldy
Miss Jeanne Oger
Mr. Vincent G. Parisi
Miss Rosa Pascual
Miss Winnie Timmons

SPANISH

Miss Josephine Holt

Mr. P. A. Cebollero
Miss Constance M. Gay
Miss Rosa Pascual
Mr. G. A. Walls

GERMAN

Miss Selina P. Wilson

Mrs. Lizzie S. Phillips

SCIENCE

Mr. D. P. Boyer

Miss Dorothy Brinker
Physical Geography
Miss Rose May Davis
Chemistry
Miss Loulie C. Kelley
Physical Geography
Mr. John M. Presson
Biology
Miss Ethel Smithers
Biology

COMMERCIAL SUBJECTS

Miss Rebecca Angel
Phonography and Typewriting
Mr. H. L. Cupp
Bookkeeping
Mr. I. B. Grimes
Bookkeeping
Miss Mattie W. Hasker
Phonography and Typewriting
Mrs. Mabel P. Irby
Phonography and Typewriting
Miss Frances Norton
Salesmanship
Mrs. Marie H. Scott
Typewriting

ARTS

Miss Laura Bacon
Freehand Drawing
Mrs. Anne C. Clarke
Applied Arts
Mr. R. T. Morenus
Mechanical Drawing
Mr. F. G. Spear
Applied Arts

MANUAL ARTS

Miss M. Hazel Gallagher
Sewing
Mr. Henry O. Lane
Shopwork
Miss Maria S. Peek
Cooking
Mr. J. A. Staples
Woodwork

MUSIC

Prof. Leslie Watson

MILITARY

Captain M. G. Munce

When Dreams Come True

If ever things are like they ain't,
If ever dreams come true,
Mr. H. will dismiss assembly
In a way entirely new;
Miss Polly Clark will no terrors hold
For every wee, small "rat;"
Mr. T. J. Stubbs will married be;
Miss Ingram will grow fat;
Mr. Redfield will have a real moustache;
Miss Dew will make some noise;
Mr. Spear will quit stealing pencils;
Miss Cross won't run after the boys;
Mr. Presson will grow as tall
As Mr. Robinson ain't;
Miss Phillips won't give any home work;
And Miss Pascual will need to paint;
Senor Pedro Cebollero
Will discard his lofty bearing;
Mr. Walls will lose his happy grin;
And Miss Sydnor with slang will be sparing;
Mr. Phipps will learn to dance;
Miss Simpson will be sedate;
And our speedy Miss Welsh will learn to talk
At a less amazing rate;
Such things as these can never be;
They'll as likely come to pass
As Miss Engelberg will cease to be loved
By the 1918 Class. —HESTER BRUCE.

Appreciation

We extend our sincere thanks to such members of the class who contributed to the Class Book or who helped in any way to make it a success. To Miss Ray Van Vort and Mr. Vincent Parisi, whose assistance and support assured the success of the Class Book, we are immeasurably grateful.

Advertisements

To Our Advertisers

We acknowledge our indebtedness to those who have made possible the production of the Class Book by giving us their advertisements. We hope that the students will patronize most heartily these merchants.

The Editors

Telephone
Madison
6081-6080

Flowers for All Occasions

Beautifully arranged in artistic designs by our own floral experts are what you get when you order flowers from us. You also get absolute freshness and prompt deliveries.

Ratcliffe & Tanner
207 North Sixth Street
"We Grow the Flowers We Sell"

Winston Electric Construction Co.
12 North Seventh Street
Phome Madison 323

ELECTRICAL FIXTURES

Mazda Lamps

TOMPKINS HAS Wheels
Moto-Cycles and Bicycles

408 WEST BROAD STREET
RICHMOND, VA.

Richmond's Society Engravers

STATIONERS
BOOKMEN

HUNTER & CO.
Agents for WATERMAN IDEAL
FOUNTAIN PENS

We will be glad to see you at our new address
105 East Broad Street

PEP CLUB

Spirit Manufacturers
and Enthusiasm Dispensers

The stockholders wish to announce to all wide-awake Juniors, on account of advanced age, the selling of the Good Will and all properties.

A SPLENDID INVESTMENT
GUARANTEED DIVIDENDS

If interested, communicate by mail, telegraph or wireless with

Elizabeth Chesterman (our successor),
John Marshall High School.

SPORTING GOODS

Baseball, Football and Tennis Goods

Largest stock south of New York

Special Prices to Colleges and Schools

HARRIS, FLIPPEN & CO.
1007 East Main Street

"Sweetest of Sweets"

Samoset Chocolates

"Chief of Them All"

HARRELSON & CO.,
DISTRIBUTORS

Cussons, May & Co.

INCORPORATED

PRINTERS

Manufacturers of Calendars, Blotters Leather and other Advertising Specialties, Labels, Stickers, Office Stationery and general Commercial Printing

415-417-419 Bowe Street

Richmond, Va.

Established 1868 Phone Madison 6433

"The South's Great Business School"

You will secure a Business Education but ONCE—Be sure you get the BEST.

SMITHDEAL
BUSINESS COLLEGE

Ninth and Broad Sts., Richmond, Va.

Benj. T. Ashton

Dealer in

Staple and Fancy Groceries, Provisions

Fresh Vegetables and Country Produce a Specialty.

Phone Madison 4691-4692

616 East Marshall Street

J. A. Connelly Arthur E. Chapman

J. A. Connelly & Co.

Real Estate
Rentals
and Loans

7th and Franklin Streets

Richmond, Va.

Medical College of Virginia

STUART McGUIRE, M. D., LL. D., Dean

MEDICINE DENTISTRY PHARMACY

State Institution Established 1838

New Buildings, Modern Equipment, Experienced Faculty

For Catalogue, Address
J. R. McCAULEY, Secretary-Treasurer
Richmond, Virginia

"Tastes Best
'Tis Best"

WYNNE ICE CREAM
COMPANY, Inc.

Special Prices for Schools

Waller Wynne, President

425 North Sixth Street
Richmond, Va.

S. Ullman's Son

Oldest and Cheapest Cash
Grocery in the South

1820-22 E. Main
506 E. Marshall

The Store That Satisfies

COMPLIMENTS OF

TALMAN AUTO SUPPLY COMPANY

Distributors of High Grade

Auto Supplies
AND Accessories

Ran. 3765—Mad. 6986

627-629 EAST MAIN STREET

Whatever Your Walk In Life---

Whether you engage in business or enter professional life, at one time or another—

You Will Need Printed Matter!

Then remember this:

Not cheapness of price, but effectiveness of production is the end desired.

To translate your ideas and wishes into the printed word in such a manner as to properly convey your message with dignity and force, and to make delivery at the time agreed, is the aim of —the Busy Shop of BETTER Printing!

When printing time comes, see us.

GARRETT & MASSIE, INC.
1309-11 EAST FRANKLIN STREET
RICHMOND, VIRGINIA

Dishinger & Boice

8th and Grace

Richmond, Va.

Official Photographers

1917-18

for

William & Mary

Randolph Macon College

Union Theological Seminary

Collegiate School for Girls

Medical College of Virginia

John Marshall High School

Your Last Year's Hat Turned Into New

Why pay the high cost of a new one? We can reshape, clean and renovate it at a small cost.

DIAMOND BLEACH USED

Straws Cleaned, 25c Men's Panamas Cleaned, 50c

Ladies' Panamas Cleaned, 60c

Don't Pay 75c and $1.50

Bring them here to-day—We're ready—Satisfaction Guaranteed

T. SOTOS, Hat Cleaners 712½ EAST BROAD STREET
PHONE MADISON 9513

Ladies Shoe Shining Parlor

Russell T. Cobb.

Capt. J. Wellford Trevillian "Capt. of the Burns"

L. Noyes Wilson "With the very best of luck".

Thelma Hill - You were a mean thing, but maybe it isn't always true (?)

Joe Beatty - The top of the morning to you.

Beaumont C. Stearnes Jr. "Some one I know is always talkin 'bout you".

L. Dudley Hemrick

"little Johnnie Coe" No! I am not a teacher yet.

Don't forget Falling Creek & all that goes with it! "Poley" Lipscomb

Mary Maynard - "May the red curls never turn grey !!"

Marion Carmichael: "Here, Son, you're red headed too."

I always did like mikes. Why does James love crackers & potato chips SO??? Why does Mike like them? M.B.D.

Mike & Ike They look alike. Lt. Poley

Edwin Sidney Sands: A good "guide" for a Co. "C"

Good Luck to V V: favorite - H. Kirkwatson

Oh! Jimmy how you can love — G. Hendrix

Always shining at the top - Scotty Parrish

You have always helped me & you Miss Ingram.

Bill Reynolds

I hope you will always shine as the top of your head.

C. Wall

The cutest of the red-head blonds. Wm Lyle Lyons
Henry Lyle.

Charles W. Quarles - Meet me on the clothes line for that's where I hang out. (original.)

"Mike + Ike the looke alike". Remember the picnic.. H. Ruffin.

Roses are red, violets are blue
I don't believe you'll ever get through. (Say Mike haven't you finished eating yet.

Willard G. Barker.

Just - Around - the - Corner - Maude A. Hooker
Pearl Kappa - May his fiery touch ever burn.
Ira T. Mann - Eng Lit 7 -

Ike - Brown Special detail to the Gym on Friday eve.

Sam Bernheim: Goldberg's "Mike" but we can't find the "Ike."

Well, Mike, we part for a while, but maybe will meet again "over There".

Horace A. Wright.

It's been great, these 4 years at J. H., but it's been greater still to know you.

Julia Thomas.

Here's to one of the most enthusiastic 10¢ dancers
E. Lee Ware

RICHMOND PUBLIC LIBRARY
0 00 01 1298260 8

Josephine Ware.
Josephine W. Holt
G. W. Morris - Said, Agat? Equis
Mabel Porter Sibley - "For auld lang
Nina Oppenheimer - May we both grow old & gather of this day
If you were only as bright your hair will, you'd come "Sun" Carolyn D. Mi
- "Snowball"
Jno. F. Ribble Jr. - Pride of "C" company
Wm Beswith - "Call step Brady!"
J. Kenneth Tillar - "Mike" of a Friday night.
Burton Green - Beware this man
"By the Woodfolk: "May you ever be as brilliant as your hair".
Robert Martin - Look out girls, Here comes
F. Wilmer - One of his many Pals
Blind Coughlin - Riding Ladies in the Bernhard Gasser - Most prominent among "Carrot Tops"
"
One of the "Collins" Stan Nelson